HITLER'S HENCHMEN ENTER NOT GUILTY PLEAS AND PLAN TO MAKE FIGHT FOR LIVES

One By One Twenty Nazi War Lords Step Before Four-Power International Tribunal and Insist Upon Innocence

VALIDITY OF THE PROCEEDINGS IS CHALLENGED

BULLETIN

Nuernberg, Nov. 21—(AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson presented the United States case against 20 fallen leaders of Germany today, accusing them of plotting war against America as early as 1940 and perpetrating a guilt of widespread atrocities against Europe. He cited Nazi records showing knowledge of a plot by the Japanese ambassador at Berlin to kill Generalissimo Stalin in 1939. Surviving leaders of Hitler's regime which set out on world conquest pleaded innocent in turn to the war crimes indictment and then sat subdued and attentive while Jackson, sometimes sarcastic and sometimes scornful, disclosed the secret evidence which the United States will present against them before the international military tribunal. He talked all day, except for the brief pleadings at the start and during a futile maneuver of defense lawyers to have the whole trial quashed. Court adjourned when Jackson finished his 20,000-word address.

By WES GALLAGHER

Nuernberg, Nov. 21—(AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor, opening America's case against the 20 Nazi war lords facing the international war crimes tribunal, said today the Germans planned as far back as 1940 to attack the United States.

He said Nazi records also disclosed that the Japanese planned to assassinate Soviet Marshal Stalin in 1940, through the use of Russian traitors.

In rapid fire order the 20 once-powerful war lords pleaded innocent to charges of engulfing the world in a bloodbath. Jackson promised in his opening 20,000-word statement to the court that the defendants would be convicted by the Nazis' own meticulously-kept records.

The four-power international tribunal sitting in judgment adjourned the morning session at 11:25 a. m. (5:25 a. m. EST) after hearing the pleas from the Nazi defendants.

The court knocked the main defense prop from under the Nazi chieftains when it abruptly denied their claims that they could not be tried for war guilt under existing international law.

The pleas of innocence were entered in a hectic 10 minuutes with resyonses varying from the dog-like bark of "no" from Rudolf Hess, Hitler's one-time deputy, to a passionate reply of "not guilty in the eyes of God" from Baldur von Schirach, Hitler youth chief.

The dramatic high point of the morning session was reached when Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, called the defendants forward one by one, warning them to plead merely innocent or guilty and to refrain from speeches which they would be permitted to make later.

Despite the warning, Hermann Goering, stripped of his medals and insignia as German Reichsmarshal, lumbered to the microphone with a prepared speech in his hand, and attempted to read it.

Intervention In Conference Is Proposed

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—A proposal that President Truman intervene in the labor-management conference to hasten its seemingly slow progress was reported today.

Persons concerned over what they consider the failure of delegates to grapple effectively with major problems of labor unrest have suggstd that Mr. Truman dlivr to the conference a "yard stick" of the work he expects of it.

This was expected by two public officials well pasted on con-

Two Dead in New York Crime Wave

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—A prize-fighter and a 16-year-old girl were slain today, the latest deaths in the city's mounting wave of violence and crime.

Al (Bummy) Davis, 30, former contender for the world's lightweight and welterweight boxing crowns, was shot to death outside a Brooklyn tavern after he struck one of four men who had held up the place.

The girl, identified by her father as Susan Scanga of Brooklyn, who worked in a dress shop in daytime and went to business school at night, was found dead beside an old shack at the foot of Huron street in Brooklyn. Police said she apparently had been beaten and possibly had been shot while putting up a violent fight against some one who tried to rape her. Beside her body was her school bag, containing notebooks.

A physician at Kings county hospital said Davis, whose real name was Albert Davidoff, was shot in the throat and chest.

RADIO AND SCREEN HUMORIST IS DEAD

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Robert C. Benchley, 56, author, editor, actor and humorist, died early today of a cerebral hemorrhage at the Harkness Pavalion of the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

Recently he had spent much of his time in Hollywood and returned only a month ago from the coast where he made a number of motion pictures. He had been doing radio shows while here and was taken ill at his Scarsdale, N. Y., home a little more than a week ago and went to the hospital.

Santa Claus Coming in Own Plane to Take Part in Parade

Here's exciting news for the youngsters of Warren and vicinity!

Flying his own airplane Santa Claus will arrive over Warren about 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. After looking over the town for about a half hour he will land at the airport on the west side where he will be given an official welcome by Burgess R. W. Steber and W. A. Walker, publisher of the Times-Mirror, after which he will be taken in an open car and driven to the business section of the town and later to the east side where he will take his place in the mammoth Victory Loan and Christmas holiday shopping parade which will move promptly at two o'clock.

Santa Claus will be at the head of the first division of the parade and it is expected that he will have many interesting interviews during his stay in Warren.

It is understood that he will leave town soon after the parade disbands. He has sent word that he expects to arrive over Warren about 12:30 o'clock but will not land until about one.

All preparations for the parade have been completed. It is expected there will be almost a score of floats in the various divisions, the latest to enter being the Mead Machine & Iron Works. The committee announced today that floats and marching units may be entered up until Saturday morning by calling Ben Kinnear at the Kinnear store, or Eddie Sullivan at the Darling Jewelry store.

The parade is sponsored by the Retail Merchants Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce to aid the Victory Loan Drive and encourage early Christmas buying on the part of shoppers of the area.

State's New Anti-Cat Law Worries Official

Pittsburgh, Nov. 21—(AP)—City Health Superintendent Howard C. Patton is just a wee bit worried about enforcement of the state's new anti-cat law, effective Friday.

The law forbids cats in eating and drinking places, of which Pittsburgh has 2,300.

If the cats go, Patton fears, the rats will come back.

Besides, he doubts if the city has enough health inspectors to visit the eating places often enough to enforce the law equitably.

No Selection For Successor To Lawrence

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—(AP)—Pennsylvania Democratic leaders looked to State Chairman David L. Lawrence today for the next move in the search for a man to take the party's helm when Lawrence takes office as mayor of Pittsburgh in January.

Lawrence and Pennsylvania's two senators—Joseph F. Guffey and Francis Myers—have been non-commital on potential candidates for the post, Myers explaining "we intend to confer with the leaders of the party in the state before reaching a decision."

G. Harold Wagner, Democratic auditor general who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the party's nomination for governor next year, expressed the belief the mantel would fall to "someone that will be a surprise to everybody."

Asked about specific persons mentioned for the post, Wagner said State Senator Joseph Barr of Allegheny is "liked by everyone" and that he has heard the name Michael Lawler, Lackawanna county commissioner, "freely discussed."

Shawmut Co. Officers Are Held for Court

Ridgway, Nov. 21—(AP)—Two Shawmut Mining Co. officials and another employe today awaited court action on charges of forsible entry and detainer and larceny brought by Dr. Elizabeth Hayes, former company physician.

Dr. Hayes declared Shawmut General Manager Frank Lambert, Superintendent David Bell and Francis Erich entered her office in Force, removed her medicines and other property, and padlocked the door.

Judge Clark K. Dixon yesterday fixed bail at $1,000 for each man on the larceny charge. Justice of the Peace Dr. Eugene Flynn of Kersey released the men on $200 bond in the entry and detainer case.

Thomas Gragory, Shawmut attorney, said the office was needed for a new doctor and that Dr. Hayes had indicated she would not comply with a request to vacate it.

"Dr. Betty," as she is known to some 450 mine families in Force, Byrnedale and Hollywood, quit her job with Shawmut last July 16 in a protest against the sanitary conditions under which miners lived. The miners, declaring they would not work without a doctor at hand, walked out and are still on strike.

Since then, Dr. Hayes has been treating 4,000 residents of the area privately. Since she lost her

REP. WEISS ASKS FOR A SPECIAL ELECTION

Glassport, Nov. 21—(AP)—Rep. Samuel A. Weiss (D.-Pa.) who was elected an Allegheny county common pleas judge two weeks ago said he would call on Governor Martin in Harrisburg today to ask for a special election to choose his successor in congress.

If the governor denied the request, Weiss said he would consider remaining in congress and holding the judgeship in abeyance until Jan. 3, 1947, when his congressional term expires.

If a special election is called, Weiss said he likely would resign next Jan. 6. His term as judge normally would begin next day, Jan. 7. By law, a person cannot hold two elective offices simultaneously.

RICHARDSON'S REMOVAL IS GIVEN AIRING

PROTESTED BLOCKADE

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—Admiral J. O. Richardson today quoted the late Secretary of Navy Knox as telling him he was relieved as commander of the fleet in 1941 because he had "hurt the feelings" of President Roosevelt.

Richardson told the senate-house committee inquiring into the Pearl Harbor disaster that Knox told him in Washington March 24, 1941, after Richardson was succeeded by Admiral Husband E. Kimmel:

"The last time you were here, you hurt the president's feelings."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) asked Richardson, who said he had argued previously with the president against keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor, if he knew how he might have hurt Mr. Roosevelt's feelings.

"It would hurt my feelings if a senior subordinate under me disagreed with me and I coudln't make him change his mind," the admiral replied firmly.

Richardson said he had complained to Knox that in all his experience he never had heard of a commanding officer being relieved "in the same manner I was."

When he asked Knox why, the admiral said the late secretary replied that "the president would send for me and talk the matter over with me."

He added, in reply to questions that the president never sent for him and he never sought to see the president.

Richardson told the investigators today that discussion of the plan to halt Japanese shipping—never carried out—had prompted him to send a message to Admiral Thomas C. Hart, then Asiatic fleet commander, containing 10 "assumptions."

He had testified yesterday the late Secretary of Navy Frank Knox told him and other officers at a conference Oct. 9, 1940 that President Roosevelt had suggested establishing a line of ships to halt Japanese shipping to the western hemisphere in the eevnt Japan moved against the British as a result of the reopening of the Burma road set for Oct. 17.

Although Richardson protested

Director of Swing Lobby Is Killed

New Castle, Nov. 21—(AP)—An auto accident while she was enroute home from a self-imposed wartime task that won her the love of thousands of young people last night killed Mrs. Herbert Dean, about 65, director of "Swing Lobby".

Mrs. Dean was returning to her home on Harlansburg road from a meeting of Mayor John F. Haven's board of directors of recreation. The recreation project, publicly financed, made possible Swing Lobby, a place for young people to enjoy themselves under supervision.

Clarence Keitzer of Slippery Rock, whose car crashed head-on with Mrs. Dean's, is being treated in Jameson Memorial Hospital for lacerations.

Little in Way of a Public Observance On Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving day in Warren, the first since our armed forces have ceased participation in actual hostilities on many widespread fronts, will have little in the nature of a public observance, but will find many families reunited for the first time in several years.

Several churches have announced individual services for the morning hours, but, in general, business will be at a standstill. The various banks, post office, most retail establishments and state and federal offices will observe the customary holiday procedure. There will be neither rural nor city mail deliveries, it is stated at the post office, but the usual arrangements may be made for specials.

There will be no issue of the Times-Mirror on Thursday, and Friday editorial and advertising copy must be in promptly to insure publication in Friday's paper.

Prayers of Thanksgiving and the Holy Communion will mark observance of the Thanksgiving rite in Trinity Memorial church, the service to be at ten o'clock. Rector Beecher M. Rutledge also announces a Thanksgiving service at nine o'clock in his parish, St. Luke's, at Kinzua.

Pastor Edward K. Rogers will have a special message for the Thanksgiving worship to be held at First Lutheran church at 9:30 in the morning and the choir will have a suitable anthem.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock, the union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Warren County Ministerial Association will be held in the First Church of the Nazarene in Pennsylvania avenue, east. All in the community are invited and urged to attend.

As Nuernberg War Crimes Trial Opens

YMCA 'Call to Membership' Is Given Encouraging Start

Yank In Shanghai Is Optimistic Grid Fan

Philadelphia, Nov. 21—(AP)—Lt. Col. Harry Little, University of Pennsylvania graduate now stationed in China, wired the university:

"Am in Shanghai at moment. Please reserve six seats for the Penn-Cornell game. Will contact you upon arrival."

Shanghai is about 10,000 miles from Philadelphia.

If interest and enthusiasm mean anything—and they always do in any campaign—the Y.M.C.A. "Call to Membership" will surely result in the 600 members sought. The 1945 effort for new and renewal memberships was well launched last night, when sixty-eight officers and "soldiers", "Sailors" and "Waves" of the ranks, gathered in the "Y" building for the opening meeting.

The opening prayer was given by Rev. William T. Lane, who is also one of the campaigners. The "Y" President, W. Howard Alexander, serving as commander-in-chief of the "Task Forces" aiming at the 600 objective, presided and expressed the Association's appreciation of the willing spirit displayed by those in the campaign organization.

After getting their arms and ammunition, in the form of suggestions, instructions, prospect cards and workers kits, the men and women set forth to do a job, with indications pointing to a victorious finish on Nov. 28th. Between now and the 28th, there will be two report meetings, Friday night of this week and Monday night of next week, the 23rd and 26th. The point system offers a

DeGaulle Has New Coalition Cabinet

Paris, Nov. 21—(AP)—Gen. De Gaulle's chief of cabinet said today that the president had formed a coalition government giving the Communists five portfolios, including a newly-created ministry of armaments.

Gaston Palewski, who read off the list, said De Gaulle would present it to the constituent assembly Friday. This was expected to resolve the crisis which arose when the Communists, with the largest representation of any party in the assembly, demanded one of three major cabinet posts—interior, war or foreign affairs.

The new government includes four ministeries of state without portfolios. These are Socialist Vincent Auriol, M. R. P. Francisque Gay, Rightist Louis Jacquinot and Communist Maurice Thorez, secretary general of the party.

Four other Communists were named.

De Gaulle retained the presidency and with it the function of chief of the French armies as head of the national defense ministry, under which Tillon and the MRP Minister of the armies, Armand Michelet, will serve.

Eisenhower Feted At Legion Meeting

Chicago, Nov. 21 — (AP)—No other country fears a strong America, says General Dwight D. Eisenhower, and "no decent preparations of our own will be regarded suspiciously by others, because we are trusted."

"A respectably strong America means to others a willingness on our part to bear our full share of the burdens of preserving peace—not an intention to resort to force for our own enrichment or advantage," the newly designated army chief of staff said last night.

Speaking at the American Legion National Commander's dinner, the five star general urged that the nation maintain strong military forces, emphasized as necessary universal military training and favored unified control of the country's fighting forces.

The speech by the supreme commander of Allied forces in the European theatre climaxed a day in which he won the cheers and plaudits of thousands and high honor from the Legion, as well as the army's top command from President Truman.

Snow Flurries Are Forecast Tomorrow

Pittsburgh, Nov. 21—(AP)—Snow flurries for Thanksgiving Day in western Pennsylvania were forecast today by Weatherman W. S. Brotzman.

Railroads and airlines reported all reservations had been gobbled up days ago, and bus lines were ready for the usual heavy holiday traffic.

Churches planned special services in celebration of the first peacetime Thanksgiving in four years. Hospitalized veterans at the Deshon and Aspinwall hospitals able to enjoy turkey will get it. The USO planned to take care of veterans who may miss dinner at home.

Corry Man Faints After Conviction

Erie, Nov. 21—(AP)—Shortly after his conviction on a charge of first degree murder, Frank L. Bromley, Jr., 23, of Corry, fainted and fell down a flight of stairs at the courthouse here last night, dragging with him a deputy sheriff to whom he was handcuffed.

Bromley suffered bruises. The deputy, H. C. Tompkins, apparently was unhurt.

The jury, which found Bromley guilty of the April 3, 1942, fatal shooting of Chief Petty Officer Lloyd Wilkinson of North East, deliberated two and one-half hours. It recommended mercy, making a life sentence mandatory.

As the verdict was read, Bromley said distinctly to his counsel: "I can't believe it!"

Then he burst into tears and, throwing himself down in his chair, buried his head in his arms.

200,000 AUTO WORKERS QUIT IN 20 STATES

Walkout Is Called After Breakdown In Negotiations In Progress Two Months

STOPPAGE IN CAPITAL

By the Associated Press

The nation's largest labor union, CIO's United Auto Workers, today struck approximately 100 General Motors plans in 20 states, raising the nation's total of workers idle due to labor disputes past the 500,000 mark.

The company estimated its struck plants employ close to 200,000 production workers. The strike was called after a breakdown in negotiation which had been in progress for two months.

The union, demanding a 30 per cent wage increase, had rejected three company counter-proposals.

The Flint, Mich., plant of GM was the first individual property to report a walkout. Employes left their jobs at the Buick Motors plant in Flint 20 minutes before the strike deadline, announced unofficially yesterday as 11 a. m. (EST) today.

The General Motors strike added to the nation's already troubled labor picture. Some 300,000 workers were idle in 150 other disputes, most of them over wages.

For the second time in two weeks, a work stoppage of AFL bus and street car operators crippled transportation service in Washington, D. C. Hundreds of thousands of residents of the capital and neighboring suburbs were left without their regular means of transportation. A company official said there was a complete tieup.

Also breaking into the labor picture again was a threatened strike of Montgomery Ward & Company retail and wholesale stores in six cities. A CIO union official in Denver said the strikes will be effective Monday in stores in Denver, Chicago, St. Paul, Kansas City, Detroit and Albany, N. Y. No immediate comment was made by company officials in Chicago.

The strike call for General Motors employes held front-ranking position in the labor picture. A union spokesman said all units in the nation's largest operating corporation were struck simultaneously.

The strike call, authorized by

Walkout Called In All Ward Stores

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Samuel Wolchok, president of the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employes of America, CIO, announced today that the union had called a nation-wide strike of Montgomery Ward and Company employes, to begin next Monday.

Wolchok said at a press conference that the action was taken because Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward, had not replied to a union proposal sent to Avery via air mail special delivery last Friday.

The union said it had offered to drop demands for a closed shop and check off and to submit other proposals to arbitration.

Wolchok said Avery must have received the proposal on Saturday and added that if the head of the mail order company "accepts the proposal in time we are willing to call off the strike."

Gen. "Ike" Becomes General Of Army In Shift In Commands

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—The army and navy underwent a major shift in top commands today in the midst of an inter-service scrop over proposals to merge them.

President Truman announced the biggest shake-up in the defense departments since before the war, with these four changes:

1. General of the Army George C. Marshall, 64-year old army chief of staff, retires, to be succeeded by General of the army Dwight D. Eisenhower, 55.

2. Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King who will be 67 Friday, retires as chief of naval operations, and Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, 60, takes his place.

3. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, 52, who recently was acting Allied supreme commander in the Mediterranean theatre, succeeds Eisenhower as commanding general of the American forces in the European theatre, cammander-in-chief of the U. S. occupation forces in Germany, and U. S. Representative on the Allied control council of Germany.

4. Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, wartime commander of the 5th Fleet who has been described by associates as a "cold-blooded fighting fool," becomes commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet in place of Nimitz. He is 59.

Mr. Truman said Gen. Brehon Sobervell, commander of the army service forces, and General of the Army Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, had asked to be relieved, too, but he had not consented to their retirement at this time.

He said that both Marshall and King had sought retirement after Japanese surrender but that he

Unless otherwise stated, visiting hours at Warren's funeral homes are from 10 a. m. to 12; 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

SUSIE ELLIS CARTWRIGHT

(Written for Times-Mirror)

Susie Margaret Cartwright, daughter of John and Margaret Ellis, was born June 13, 1875, at Conneaut Lake, and died at her home November 7, 1945. When about eight years of age, her parents and family moved to Newton, where she spent the rest of her life. She was married to E. W. Cartwright October 23, 1895, the present year being their 50th wedding anniversary. One son, Ralph, was born to them in 1899 and passed away December 26, 1944.

The deceased was a patient sufferer for a number of years and was confined to her home for the past four years. She enjoyed a wide circle of friends, many of whom called on her or sent letters and cards. The floral offerings sent for her funeral were beautiful, a silent tribute of love and admiration.

Besides her husband, she leaves one grandson, Robert Cartwright, serving in the Pacific with the U. S. Navy; a daughter-in-law, Mildred, of Meadville; also two sisters, Vurnia Pieffer, of Meadville, and Lulu Williams, Garland; four brothers, Milton Ellis, Pittsfield; Walter, Roy and William Ellis, Torpedo.

Funeral services were held November 10 at the home with Rev. Slaugenhaupt officiating. Burial was made in Newton cemetery, with the following nephews as bearers: Floyd, Kenneth and Lawrence Ellis, Raymond and "Bud" Gates.

Relatives were present from Meadville, Jamestown, Youngsville, Warren, Titusville, Oil City, Pittsfield, Garland, Torpedo and Grand Valley.

SYLVESTER S. ROGERS

Sylvester S. Rogers, 73, former well known resident of Pittsfield, passed away at the Warren General Hospital Tuesday morning.

Surviving are his wife, one stepdaughter, Mrs. Roy Lightner, of Irvine; one step-son, Manning Swanson, of Pittsfield; four brothers, Homer, of Pendleton, Ore., George, of Enterprise, Ore., David, of Hadley, and Lee, of Youngsville. Also, nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Removal has been made to the home of Roy Lightner, Irvine, where services will be held at three o'clock Friday afternoon. Interment will be in the Youngsville cemetery.

URBAN B. FOX

Funeral services in memory of Urban B. Fox, of Clarendon, second victim of the explosion and fire at the Bradford-Penn plant last Thursday, were held at nine o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Clara's church in Clarendon, Father M. J. Macken celebrating the requiem mass. Bearers for interment in St. Joseph's cemetery were Herman and Clyde McCool, Harley Donaldson, Albert Anderson, George Miller, Gail Dickerson.

The rites were very largely attended. Those coming from out of town: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Huff, Mrs. George Fox, Margaret Fox, Caroline Smith, Joan and Beverly Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson, all of Weedville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fox and daughter, Limestone, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox, St. Marys; Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Fox, Latrobe; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Seth, Sheffield; Mrs. R. J. Alvino, Bradford; Herman Seth, in the U. S. Navy; Edith Lyle, Burndale, Pa.; L. L. Atkins, Big Bend.

SISTER ROMAINE O'HERN

Word has been received here that Sister Romaine O'Hern died at Our Lady of Victory Hospital at Lackawanna on November 16. She was the daughter of the late John and Catherine O'Hern, Warren, and is survived by two brothers and three sisters: Daniel, John and Anna O'Hern, Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. Harry Nelson.

She entered the convent 48 years ago and was directress of the academy for 15 years at Mt. St. Joseph's Academy in Buffalo, since when she had served as secretary. She was a member of the board of directors of Father Baker's at Lackawanna for three years.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at the convent, with burial in the Sisters' cemetery at Buffalo.

JOHN LINDER

Sheriff L. E. Linder, 105 Monroe street, has received word of the death of his grandfather, John Linder, South street, Ridgway, which occurred yesterday afternoon following a short ilness. He was aged 86 years and had been in fine health until the death of his son, Edward, on October 7, since which time he has failed rapidly.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon from his home and at 2:30 o'clock from the Swiss Reformed church in Ridgway.

RECEIVE AWARD

The Printz Company yesterday afternoon received a banner for its success in the Victory Loan drive. N. D. Paterson, A. F. Kottcamp, and Ben Kinnear made the presentation.

EDITOR INJURED

J. Harold Swanson, former managing editor of the Jamestown Post and quite well known here, was seriously injured recently in Jamestown when a bus which he had just boarded was forced to a quick stop and Swanson received head lacerations. He was taken to WCA hospital.

IS ARRESTED

William Lindstrom, Pittsfield, was arrested in Corry Tuesday on charges of driving a stolen automobile without lights and trying to evade officers when they gave chase. Lindstrom was also charged with driving without a license, but officers are investigating his being in an army uniform.

INJURED IN GYM

Two local students, Wayne Furman, Jr., of 311 Fourth avenue, and William Rohrer, 1903 Pennsylvania avenue east, fell in gym classes at school on Tuesday and were taken to Warren General Hospital for x-rays and treatment. Young Furman injured his left knee and Rohrer his right wrist, but neither had received a fracture and were discharged from the hospital.

TWO ARE CHARGED

As the result of the State Police investigation into the accident which occurred at 11:45 p. m. Monday on Route 62, near the Farm Colony, two persons face motor code violation charges. Fred Witz, 17 year old Brockway sailor, has been discharged from Warren General Hospital and was arraigned before Justice T. M. Greenlund yesterday afternoon on a charge of having no operator's license. Clarence Hyde, North Warren, still in the hospital, will be charged by the State Police with allowing an unlicensed person to operate a vehicle owned by him. Other persons injured in the two-way crash are reported by the hospital as doing satisfactorily.

REJOICING IS SOLEMN

Thanksgiving, is, by tradition, a holiday of family feasting and family reunion. As such it is the happiest of any we have known for the last four years. Soldiers and sailors by the hundreds of thousands have come home since the last Thanksgiving, men who were fighting then in Germany and the Philippines and the danger-infested skies and oceans, and wondering when and if there would be another Thanksgiving at home.

Today the reunion is a reality for them. And so in countless homes a deep, personal gratitude is added to the day's good food and good spirits. There are new, intangible trimmings for the trukey that will make this a memorable as well as a happy holiday.

Thanksgiving is also a day traditionally marked by a national counting of blessings. This year we count victory and the total is nearly complete, nor any less impressive because it is so quickly computed.

Beyond victory this day does not offer too many reasons for rejoicing. There is scant joy in many parts of the world and here at home the peace and plenty so painfully won, the well-being so earnestly desired, are surrounded by hostile forces. There is unrest and anger and confusion, and above them all hovers the invisible threat of the new and deadly atomic force which the world must live with.

So the rejoicing is solemn at best. But perhaps that is in the true spirit of Thanksgiving. The Pilgrims who first celebrated this day 324 years ago had little material cause for celebration. They, too, were surrounded by hostile forces. But the worst was behind them. They had freedom, and they had survived.

The essential qualities which have brought this country thus far are the same ones which brought the Plymouth colonists through their first winter. They are the qualities which are still needed today and which, we may hope, offer our best chance of continued survival and progress.

THANKSGIVING AND VICTORY BONDS

Commenting on Warren County's drop to 17th place in the Fort Pitt Victory Bond Area, N. D. Paterson, chairman of the War Finance Committee, says that if we are at all thankful we must reverse this trend now. "We have so much to be grateful for this Thanksgiving and a large part of our good fortune is due to the Victories of our Armed Forces. We can best show our gratitude to them and to our country by the purchase of Victory Bonds. Every Victory Bond we buy helps to feed and clothe some Warren County boy; every Victory Bond we buy helps to provide medical and hospital care for some wounded Warren boy; every Victory Bond we buy helps to bring home some Warren boy. The very Victory Bond we buy today make it possible for a Warren boy to be home by Christmas. The drive is nearly over but we have a long way to go. Let's show our Thanksgiving spirit and buy Victory Bonds now!"

HELP "SHARE-THE-FOOD"

November 29th is a day that all Warren and Jamestown residents, interested in seeing peace and a real understanding among nations, are setting aside to remember. It is a date that they are circling with red as an opportunity to give aid to those in Europe and Asia who are fighting as bitter a war as the one just won, a war against starvation.

November 29th is the day of the "Share-the-Food" suppers which the Y. W. C. A. and the Girl Scouts of Jamestown and the Girl and Boy Scouts, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of Warren are sponsoring.

The supper served here will be identical with the supper the luckier people of liberated Italy are eating: a bowl of soup, a salad, a piece of bread. When our citizens buy a reservation they will pay the price of a good old American dinner, but when they finish eating the meal served, they'll go away feeling hungry. Hungry . . . but they'll know their next meal won't be too small. They'll not know the meaning of real hunger, and they'll have the satisfaction of knowing that through this small sacrifice it will be possible for hungrier people to be at least among the luckier people.

November 22nd is the day when all Americans will give thanks for an end of pain and heartache among our fellow countrymen. The day when even the unluckier ones among us will say "Grace" before a full table.

November 29th is the day when all Warrenites will show their thanks by helping to ease the pain and heartache among our fellows of other countries. The day to "Share-the-Food".

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1925

Many Warren High School students have registered for the Times-Mirror course of journalism. Examination papers have been sent to these students, and it is possible that they will receive positions.

The cast has been announced for the play "Marchetta" to be given at the Woman's Club. Over 100 adults, and equally as many children, will appear in the several choruses.

Winthrop Williams' Buick team is leading the field in the YMCA membership campaign with five new and 63 renewed memberships. The Fords, captained by Art Kirby, are second.

The police department has removed the "Traffic Turtles" which it has had placed at intersections. The device was used to keep motorists on the right side of the road.

In 1935

Clyde Christensen, South Irvine street, and Francis DeLong, North Irvine street, have been appointed temporary clerk in the state liquor store here.

Ben Kinnear has returned from Philadelphia, where he attended the Registers and Recorders Convention. He was elected secretary of the assomiation for the coming year.

The Life Study group heard R. R. Merrill, principal of the Youngsville schools, lead a discussion on "Do Too Many Students Go to College?" Popular opinion was that there were not too many college students.

The Beckley Electric Store window is attracting much attention. A live turkey may be seen strutting in the display case. A turkey is given with each stove purchase.

TURN OFF THE BARREL

The bugle call of "tatoo" has nothing to do with the art of covering the body with figures. It is a contraction of "taps-to," a bugle call sounded as far back as the Thirty Years' War, 1618-1648, as a signal to notify the camp to turn off beer taps for the evening.

bonus for each renewal reported on Friday night.

To better acquaint the campaigners with certain phases of the "Y" program, Felix Mira gave a short talk on the Y's Men's Club, with particular reference to the opportunities this club affords to returned service men; and Don Mowell spoke briefly regarding the fun and health men are getting through the volley-ball classes.

General Alexander announced that five attractive prizes have been offered as awards for individual achievement in the campaign. The prizes and donors are a pair of shoes, by Carter & Danielson; a 5-gallon can of motor oil, by Emblem Oil Company; leather pocket-secretary, by Kinnears; a necktie, by the Style Shop; two pounds of chocolates, by Geracimos. The first two awards will be for highest scores in points for all types of memberships, while the others are offered for outstanding records in securing new members.

The dining room service for the meal was ably rendered by a group of ladies from the Nazarene church, to whom the entire organization extended their hearty thanks. The personnel of the campaign organization follows:

Decorations Given Wife of Tidioute Hero

The Silver Star and the Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster posthumously awarded Captain Ralph L. Christy, of Tidioute, have been received by his wife, Mrs. Mary F. Christy, it is announced today by Lt. Col. John S. Carlisle, of the Pittsburgh Recruiting District.

The Silver Star was awarded for gallantry in action from 23 March 1945 to 25 March 1945 in Germany, the citation reading:

"Although he had been exposed to intense enemy shelling for several days, Captain Christy voluntarily set out on a supply mission and traveled along a heavily shelled route. Due to traffic congested roads, he drove along the shoulders, fully aware of the danger from enemy land mines. However, he elected to continue his mission until his vehicle exploded a mine and he was mortally wounded. Captain Christy's gallant actions will remain a lasting inspiration to all who served with him."

The Bronze Star and Oak Leaf Cluster were awarded for meritoirous and heroic achievement from 12 January 1945 to 25 March 1945 in Belgium and Germany.

MONTGOMERY WARD

POLICE OFFICER HERO

Arthur W. Butler, a police officer of Tonowanda, was the hero of the town Saturday when it became known that he had used two ordinary wire nails and with them had removed the top of a salk shaker, swallowed by a year-old babe, Lindy Ann Tucker. He succeeded, with the help of another officer, in pulling the obstruction from the child's throat in time to save its life. The mother had rushed into the station with the babe to phone for a doctor but Butler saw the child was near death and acted immediately.

CREW ATE LEATHER

The crew of the ship commanded by Magellan, the explorer, softened leather and ate it when their food supply ran out while crossing the Pacific ocean.

Victory Thanksgiving Day Proclamation By Gov. Martin

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—Governor Edward Martin has issued his 1945 Thanksgiving proclamation calling upon Pennsylvanians to observe Thursday, Nov. 22, appropriately in their homes and places of worship.

He also urged that the American Flag be displayed from all appropriate places on this first post-war Thanksgiving Day.

The proclamation:

"'Our Father we thank Thee.'

"These simple words will be on our lips with reverence and fervor as never before as we join this year in the traditional observance of Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 22. They will rise in a great chorus from hearts overflowing with gratitude for the countless blessings which have been bestowed upon us.

"By Divine favor we have been garnted victory over those who plotted in darkness to destroy all that we hold sacred. Through God's mercy our Nation has been guided safely through the perils of war. In lands across the sea helpless millions who lied as slaves under the cruel lash of tyranny have been liberated. With hope renewed our thoughts turn to the joyous harmonies of 'Peace on Earth' and we give thanks to God.

"In our prayers we ask that our Nation and the world be spared the agonies of conflict in the future. We pray that all the people of the earth may be drawn closer together to live in peace as brothers, according to the teachings of the Holy Bible.

"Let us be thankful that we breathe the air of freedom, secure in the heritage won for us by the faith and courage of the pioneers who push back the wilderness and founded a great Nation in the New World. Let us be thankful not only for our material progress but also for the increasing spiritual strength of our people, our churches, our schools and our homes.

"Let us reverently thank our Heavenly Father that there still burns in the hearts of American youth that flame of humanity which prompted them to offer their lives so valiantly on the altar of world freedom. May their example of self-sacrifice be an inspiration to us, the living, and may God, in His infinite love, comfort those who mourn.

"Now, therefore, I, Edward Martin, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 22, 1945, as a legal holiday and as a day of Thanksgiving in this Commonwealth. I call upon our people to observe the day in their homes and in their places of worship in humble and grateful remembrance of the blessings which the citizens of this great State are privileged to enjoy.

"Furthermore, I ask that the Flag of our country be displayed fro mall appropriate places to symbolize our patriotic loyalty and devotion to the ideals of liberty, justice, and equal opportunity which America holds forth as an example to the world."

LANDER

Lander, Nov. 19—The Lander Sunshine Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Lida Hill with seventeen members and two visitors present. Lois Lindell presided and all repeated the Lord's prayer. Several bills were ordered paid. It was voted to have the annual Christmas party and Florence Mahan, Rose Falconer and Fern Hinsdale were appointed dinner committee, and Genevieve Gruber and Geraldine Marsh were appointed entertainment committee. It was also decided to bring a gift not to exceed twenty-five cents in value for the gift exchange.

Doris Stanton, Florence Ludwick and Maude Shope were appointed nominating committee for the election of officers. Six dollars and eighty four cents was turned in from the sale of jello, eight dollars and sixty five cents from the fish pond and dues amounted to one dollar and seventy cents. The Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Fern Hinsdale.

Thirty relatives, friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gruber Saturday evening for a house warming. The evening was spent playing "500" with prizes awarded to Della Ludwick, Cecile Cowles, Fred Ludwick and Ralph Shaffer. The honor guests received many gifts for their new home and lunch was served.

Archie Hollabaugh visited his brother Floyd Hollabaugh a few days.

Farmington Grange met Thursday evening with Worthy Master Jennie Lyon in charge. Dorothy Putnam was initiated in the 3rd and 4th degree. Worthy master reported on resolutions made at the Pomona Grange held at Sugar Grove. It was announced Pomona Grange would meet in Warren in February. The next meeting will be held Nov. 29 on account of Thanksgiving falling on the regular meeting date. Lunch was served in charge of Margaret Wilcox.

Patrons of the Post Journal on the Russell-Lander-Sugar Grove road and in the village now receive the Post-Journal on the same day it is printed, deliveries being made in the village by Gayle Meley Jr.

Mrs. Albert Firth and baby daughter arrived home from the General Hospital in Jamestown Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kern, Mrs. Annie Kern of Erie, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Billquist and daughters of Jamestown spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lindell. Miss Amanda Peterson of Warren was also a guest on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cowles of Jamestown spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cowles.

Relatives here have received word from Pvt. Merle Spencer that he is in the hospital at Fort Knox, Kentucky for ear treatment.

Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Shope accompanied by Mrs. Emma Gardner of Jamestown were in Ripley Tuesday and visited the Hamilton Estate and also visited relatives in Erie.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Thompson.

FOR HOLIDAY BRIDE

This pretty bride-to-be, who has just received a diamond solitaire from her recently returned serviceman, is pleased that Christmas gifts from her friends and family are things they can both enjoy. The silver coffee pot, glass candy dish, matched bath towels and wastebasket shown are presents any young couple would be thrilled to receive.

By ROSELLEN CALLAHAN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—Brides-to-be who have found filling their hope chests an almost hopeless problem, are writing letters to Santa asking for things for their home, rather than those little luxuries which pre-war brides preferred.

Though lifting of government priorities has relieves merchandise shortages somewhat, Christmas brides will still have to do a bit of sleuthing to find just the sort of things they want for their new homes. And friends who save them some of these tedious treasure hunts by giving them a house gift will win their blessings.

Silver, of course, is the first choice on a bride's gift list. Store buyers say this year there is more sterling silver flatware in popular patterns available than at any time since the beginning of the war. However, sterling hollow ware is still quite short, because many craftsmen haven't yet returned to factories.

The bride-to-be who found it impossible to buy more than one sheet and pillow case at a time will welcome any additions you make to her hope chest. And you'll find that percale and muslin sheets are beginning to show up on shelves in greater numbers.

IRISH LINENS COMING

Long-missing Irish linens are now being shipped to this country in limited quantities, as well as small lots of English china. American firms, just getting back into production swing, say there will be no new dinnerware designs introduced for a while. But they suggest, if full sets aren't to be had in your local store, that you order a token set, and then fill in the other pieces when available.

Because there has been very little lead for manufacture of fine crystal stemware, it may be several months before full sets of these will be available. However, there is a fairly large selection of glass vases, dishes and decorative pieces which make perfect wedding presents.

MATCHED SETS

Bath accessories are another gift idea. This year you'll find a variety of matched sets of Turkish towels and face cloths with huge flower appliques or monograms. Other excellent gift ideas which are available in quantities are matching sets of hamper and wastebasket, tissue box and make-up box, and painted glass containers for astringent, cologne and liquid cream.

Twin lamps, candy dishes, cigarette boxes with companion ash trays, bookends that hold vines or flowers, demi-tasse cups which can double as knick-knacks when shown off on little stands, and coffee and end tables are just a few other suggestions which would make the Christmas bride beam.

GARLAND

Gertie Black has returned to her Garland home and is convalescing following a surgical operation in the Allegheny hospital at Warren.

The passing of Wilson McGrew calls to mind one of the outstanding citizens of Pittsfield Township. Mr. McGrew came from a prominent Pittsburgh family and for many years he did extensive lumbering in this vicinity. He was also active in politics, served for several years on the school board and always willing to help where it was needed. The older residents remember his great love of the out of doors. where he took long walks with his valuable bird dogs at his heels.

Sympathy is extended the family of Ransom McKelvey of Spring Creek. The deceased was well known in Garland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Irwin Sr. accompanied by their housekeeper Anne Marks have gone to Florida for the winter.

Miss Marian Holmes has gone to Wellsville, N. Y., for a vist with friends.

Norman Taylor was in Jamestown on business on Tuesday.

Mrs. Seth Holmes was in Chandlers Valley on Friday where she visited Evelyn Ransom. Mrs. Ransom was a former Garland resident. Her daughters Lucille and Virginia are attending Edinboro Teachers College and the mother teaches in the Valley.

Fay Fresles had a telephone installed on Tuesday.

Rev. Chitester entertained by presenting pictures in the community building on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Holmes had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walkes of California. Mrs. Walker has been in Maine where she met her huhband whi is in the service. They were accompanied by Samuel Cloessener who was on his way to Louisiana.

Sympathq is extended the family of Albert Meleen of Youngsville. Mr. Meleen was formerly employed in the Garland factory where he made many friends among fellow workers.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ingram and Joanne Kane of Erie were recent guests at the Kane home here.

Sympathy is extended the family of Mrs. Ernest Cartwright who passed away recently at Newton. She was a sister of Mrs. Ed Williams of this place. Mrs. Cartwright was a patient invalid for many years.

1623—Thanksgiving—1945

As many families are reunited, loved ones home from the wars, and countless others are still offering prayers for the safe return of those yet on far-off occupation fronts, it is apropos to consider that the reasons for the giving of thanks tomorrow, our 1945 Thanksgiving Day, have really changed but little since Governor William Bradford issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation in 1623:

To all the Pilgrims: Inasmuch as the Great Father has given us this year an abundant harvest of Indian corn, wheat, peas, beans, squashes and garden vetgetables, and has made the forests to abound with game and the seas with fish and clams, and inasmuch as He has protected us from the ravages of the savages, has spared us from pestilence and disease, has granted us freedom to worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience; now I, your magistrate, do proclaim that all the Pilgrims, with your wives and the little ones, do gather at the meeting house, on the hill, between the hours of 9 and 12 in the day of time, on Thursday, November the 29th, of the year of our Lord one thousand six hundred and twenty-three, and the third year since the Pilgrims landed on the Plymouth Rock, there to listen to the pastor and render thanksgiving to the Almighty God for all His blessings.

YW Board Members Hear Encouraging Reports and Plan for Many Activities

The November meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors was opened with devotions by Mrs. D. W. Crossett and held Monday night in the activities building. Miss Jennie Ryan, secretary, read the minutes and the correspondence was read by Mrs. Grover Lind, correspondence secretary. Mrs. U. S. Rogers gave the treasurer's report for the month of October.

The report of Miss Mary Church, general secretary, revealed that 2770 people were present at events in the activities building in October. She told of preliminary plans for Monday, December 10th when the annual Hanging of the Greens will take place. Another square dance has been scheduled for the same evening at 8:30, so a full evening is in store for Y. W. C. A. members and friends.

Barbara Lesser's Girl Reserve report told of the numerous activities of High School Girls' Club, ring committee, Freshman Girls' Club, Beaty Girl Reserves and North Warren Clubs as well as what the Girl Reserve committee has been doing this fall.

Mrs. Jesse Smith reported for the residence and cafeteria and Miss Rowena Sammel for Ali-We-Je Club. Mrs. J. P. Rogers presented names for membership and a total of 459 renewals or new members in the membership campaign was announced. The committee was not able to contact everyone and those who have not been reached personally are requested to take care of their renewals by mail or in person at the Y. W. C. A. office.

Mrs. D. W. Crossett gave the report of the world fellowship committee and expressed the hope that Warren would do better than it did last year in giving to the world work of the Y. W. C. A. To do so means more contributions to the World Fellowship Fund.

Miss Church presented a questionnaire which was answered by board members as to their likes and dislikes of the Woman's Press, the national Y. W. C. A. monthly magazine.

The board voted permission to the cafeteria to close between Christmas and New Year's and it will do so after the evening meal, December 22nd and not reopen until Wednesday, January snd.

Mrs. Carl Lundahl appointed a nominating committee to present names of six board members at the annual meeting in January. Chairman of this committee is Mrs. Jesse Smith, and members are Miss Jennie Ryan, Miss Bertha Fraring, Mrs. Doris Tillard and Mrs. Elaine Thomas.

The responsibility of the annual meeting was assigned to the membership committee of 18 headed by Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Robert Trusler. The date of the annual meeting is the third Monday in January, that is January 21st, and will feature Miss Mary Dingman, well known speaker on public affairs.

Margaret Gesin Is Bride on Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Gladen Gesin, of Tidioute, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Roy T. Nicholson, son of Mrs. Clara Nicholson, of Tidioute.

The double ring service was used for the ceremony, performed by the Rev. Stevenson, Tidioute, on Saturday afternoon, November 17. Miss Mary Benner, of Tidioute, was maid of honor, and James Nicholson was his brother's best man.

After the ceremony, refreshments were served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Nicholson is employed at Warren General Hospital, and Mr. Nicholson has recently been honorably discharged after three and one-half years of service in the army air service.

Present Students In Pleasing Recital

Pupils from Mrs. Louise Bailey's piano studio were heard in a delightful recital at the First Methodist church in Clarendon on Monday evening, November 19.

The first number on the program was a duet, the Blue Danube Waltzes by Strauss, played by two advance students, Ethel Miller and Janice Dibble.

The others followed in order as to their age and ability, from tiny tots, making their first public appearance, to advanced students, playing the modern classics in a very professional manner. Each number was played from memory, proving their ability and that of their teacher.

What Endocreme can do to bless you with a younger looking face

Think of the added beauty a more youthful face and throat can give! Then harken to this: Scientific research has proved that ENDOCREME can, for most women, contribute to this desirable result in a way formerly thought impossible. Many thousands are now finding that ENDOCREME actually helps to improve the skin itself, not just its transient, superficial "look." This is because ENDOCREME, alone, possesses ACTIVOL. This ACTIVOL is a scientific replacement for woman's own natural skin-vitalizing substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps to restore the normal growth of cells and tissues. It thus aids the skin to become fresher, smoother, more alluringly "alive." What bigger value can any woman young or old ask for her cosmetic dollars? The great majority get big improvement in only 30 days.

An Open Letter

Dear Santa Claus:

Somehow, the idea is becoming more and more prevalent that only the littlest tots should write you about what they hope to find under their trees on Christmas morning. I sincerely hope you can and will refute this rumor, but just in case my family and friends already believe it, I would like to make you a proposition. A couple of hasty trips up town have revealed a lot of things I'd like for my shopping list and if you could arrange to have them delivered to me beforehand, I could save you a great deal of bother by seeing that they get to the right Christmas trees.

Since the children come first on that day, I'll mention some of the nice stuffed animals, toys both educational and entertaining, a pair of those fuzzy bunny slippers for a little boy, a long wooden train and a Piper Cub plane, along with some warm mittens and a few pretty things for a new baby. An older boy would like articles from any of the student shops (just smaller editions of Dad's, really), so please send some wool and monogrammed scarfs, a couple of billfolds, a Zippo lighter, pen and pencil set, some new best-sellers from the book department, several pairs of sheepskin and leather slippers, pj's and shirts, a wool flannel robe. A younger sister would like a swingy skirt and gay sweaters, with matching mittens, scarfs and beanies, a better dress for Sunday wear, a charm bracelet and her first compact. Mother would like something nice in furs, cologne and bath salts, nail polish for her spare moments, a blouse and frilly negligee, handbag and rich fabric slippers, a slip and nightie with real lace, jewelry for a lasting remembrance. I think she'd like some new doo-dads about the house, too, or maybe a piece of furniture to replace what the kids have worn out. I nearly forgot to say that Dad also wants one of those tool boxes complete with gadgets, and Big Brother wants some additions to his swing collection. Oh, yes, you can just skip the wearables and smellables and bring me the largest Victory Bond you can spare!

Plans Complete For Saturday's Youth Activities

The Community Recreation Committee has completed its arrangements for a holiday community young people's party on Saturday night, November 24th. Barbara Benson and Bill Erickson will be co-chairmen again and will be assisted by a competent group of young committee heads.

The Men About Town Orchestra has been secured for the dance music and floor show. John Knapp will be at the piano; Don Brown at the drums; Bill Dobbs, first sax; Bob Bobbs, second sax; and Joe Fuellhart, third sax; Mac McCarthy, first trumpet; John Robertson, second trumpet; Bill Taylor, third trumpet; Bill Erickson, Trombone; and Nick Geracimos, bass.

Both the setup and decorating committee are asked to be at Beaty School Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Lee Ellis is heading the setup committee while Betty Lou Hook and Pat Wade are co-chairmen of decorating.

Teresa Fina and Frank Felisi, co-chairmen of the floor show committee, have announced a rehearsal at Beaty School for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Bill Carter is handling the P. A. system for the floor show; and Algot Eckstrom, the lights.

New heads of the refreshments committee are Eveline Peterson, Joan Kammerer and Jean Crossett. Susie Lesser is taking care of the checkroom. Marjorie and Mary Gnagey are co-chairmen of the game rooms.

Charles Cochener heads the door committee; Bud Marrer, reservations; Doris Evan, signs; and Dave Leidig and Pat Johnson, cleanup.

Dave Brown is heading a group of good acts as master of ceremonies for the floor show, which goes on at 10 o'clock.

The doors open at 8 o'clock and close at 11:15. This week's party covers the group from the Beaty Freshmen through the early twenties as usual there will be no admission fee to this community party planned by the Committee on Community Recreation and sponsored by the Community Council P. T. A.

Betty Lou Hook and Bill Blair, co-chairmen for December have already started their plans for next month's parties. The dates are December 8th and the 22nd.

Cootiettes Install At Local Meeting

Members of Cootiette Club No. 102 held their regular meeting in the local VFW Auxiliary rooms on Sunday, the chief grayback, Mrs. Gertrude Fitch, opening the meeting at two o'clock.

The installation of officers took place and the following were inducted: Chief grayback, Mrs. Hazel Shuss; lady louse, Mrs. Zella Wood; baby louse, Mrs. Pearl Porter; shackle keeper, Mrs. Jean Field; scratcher, Mrs. Frances Wood; pious louse, Mrs. Clara Haight; crummy chaser, Mrs. Della Mason; rustling louse, Mrs. Katherine Waff; ink-slinging louses, Mrs. Ida Benson and Mrs. Gertrude Fitch; and assistant louse hunter, Mrs. Grave Blymiller. Mrs. Estella Reynolds, past chief grayback, was the installing officer, and Mrs. Florence Army, past state crummy chaser, was the conductress. Mrs. Fitch was sented the past chief grayback pin.

At the business session plans were completed for the annual Christmas party for the veterans at the Warren State Hospital which will be held December 22nd.

A delicious turkey dinner was served to 100 guests by the members of the Warren club, and the next meeting will be held in Corry December 11th at the V. F. W.

Newton and Flood Rites Announced

A lovely candlelight wedding was solemnized at 7:00 p. m. Saturday, November 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Flood, Parker street, when their daughter, Ethel Mae, was united in marriage with William L. Newton, of Knox, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Newton, North Warren.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. Gordon V. Woods before a bank of pink and white chrysanthemums and in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was lovely in a two piece wool dress of gray and white, with black and gray accessories and a shoulder corsage of white rosebuds. She was attended by her sister, Laura, who wore yellow wool with brown accessories and corsage of red rosebuds. The best man was James J. Newton, brother of the bridegroom.

After the reception, held immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for their newly furnished apartment in Knox. The bride is a graduate of the local high school in the class of 1942 and has been employed in the Direct Shop of the New Process Company. The bridegroom, formerly a staff sergeant in the U. S. Army, was recently discharged after six and one-half years of service.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride included a dinner given at Geracimos' by fellow-employes of the New Process Company; also showers by her mother and sisters, Miss Lorraine Donze, and Mrs. Frank T. Flood, Jr..

Saunders, who received an honorable discharge from the army at Indiantown Gap on November 15 after 30 months overseas and three years in service, was guest of honor for a welcoming home party given Saturday evening by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Saunders, Sugar Grove. The time was spent with visiting and playing "cootie", Mrs. Harry Johnson receiving a prize for high and Mrs. Emma Nuttall, the consolation award.

Concluding the evening, refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Lucille Irvine, Mrs. Fred Pilling and Miss Betty Saunders. There were about 40 guests present, including Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Watson and daughter, Patty, Jamestown, N. Y.; Milton Pilling, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. A. B. Bradley, Mrs. Maude Winger, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Samuel Lannen and daughter, Sally, Warren.

REV. BERLIN WILL BE AT WRIGHTSVILLE

Rev. K. A. Berlin, of the Sugar Grove and Scandia Mission churches, has been engaged by the congregation of the Wrightsville community church to serve it regularly, on the second Sunday evening of each month. All who have heard Rev. Berlin in this church during the past few months are impressed with his sincerity in offering assistance and guidance by preaching the gospel in the community.

A Thanksgiving service will be held on Friday evening, November 23, when Rev. Berlin will again speak. All are invited to attend this service, which will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

NURSES TO MEET AT MEADVILLE HOSPITAL

The regular meeting of District Seven, Pennsylvania State Nurses Association, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at Meadville City Hospital. The board of directors will luncheon in the Lafayette Hotel. assemble at 10 a. m., followed by Sectional sessions are scheduled for one o'clock. A large attendance is asked, since the new district by-laws will be read in their entirety at the general session and convention reports will be given by delegates.

GROSSMAN-JANES MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Thomas Janes announces the marriage of her daughter, Estella Nora, to Flight Officer Ralph Grossman, son of Mrs. Pearl Grossman, of Scarsdale, N. Y.

The ceremony was performed at Alamogordo, N. M., at 4:30 p. m. Monday, November 5, Father Supple officiating in the base chapel. Attendants were Sgt. and Mrs. William Grilli. Mrs. Grossman enlisted in the Women's Army Corps on July 28, 1944.

FAMED SYMPHONY TO BE IN BRADFORD

It will interest music lovers of this section to learn that the Kryl Women's Symphony Orchestra of Chicago will be in Bradford on the evening of November 26 to play a concert in the senior high school. The organization is an outstanding one in symphony circles and it is likely a number from Warren will be in the audience on Monday night.

IRVINEDALE UNIT HAS FINE PROGRAM

Mrs. Samuel Lannen conducted the regular meeting of Irvinedale PTA Tuesday evening. The opening exercises were followed by routine business, with Mrs. Frank Smith reading the report of the secretary and Mrs. John Daley that of the treasurer. Mrs. Smith announced a rummage sale to be held in the Beckley building in town on November 29-30, December 1. The unit agreed to sponsor a poster contest, with prizes, winners to be entered later in the county contest.

An interesting program included two vocal solos by Joann Yagge, accompanied by Ruth Eaton, and a fine talk on the history of education in Warren county, given by H. L. Blair, county superintendent. He centered his remarks around the 14 men who have served as county superintendent, showing the progress in education promoted by each. He concluded with a history of Glade township schools, from the first to the present consolidated building. Refreshments were served by teachers and Mrs. Leslie Hanna.

JOHNSON UNIT

Mrs. Robert Shorman conducted devotions for the November meeting of Johnson PTA held at the school on Monday evening. Twenty Brownies were moved up to the new Girl Scout Troop 61 and were given their pins and H. C. Putnam gave a fine talk linking the history of the Allegheny river with the early days of Warren. To conclude, sixth grade mothers served refreshments under Mrs. D. E. Conaway's direction. Mrs. Schorman presided at the table prettily centered with a white pottery cornucopia filled with fruit.

YOUNGSVILLE NEWS

Youngsville, Nov. 21—Youngsville School held open house last Friday, patrons and friends were welcome at the regular class periods from 1:15 to 2:30 p. m. At 2:30 p. m. guests were invited to the school auditorium. The 5th and 6th grades were also invited to attend this program. The program was arranged by departments with features as follows:

Home Economics Dept. featured illustrations on correct buying. The recent work in history was illustrated by a series of talks on different phases of the United Nation Charter.

A quartet of cornet and clarinet was the contribution to the program of the music department. A one act comedy, "Wisdom Teeth" was presented by the English Department.

A skit, "Office Practice" illustrating how an office was conducted during the war and changes introduced since, was given by a Commercial Course group.

Parents present enjoyed the opportunity of meeting members of the school faculty and to learning more of the work being done in Youngsville school.

ATTEND CHURCH WEDDING

A number of relatives and close friends attended Saturday evening the wedding of Sanford Drake of Busti and Miss Marjorie Decker of Lander which was held in the Federated church of Bustic. The impressive wedding ceremony which was very beautiful was followed by a large reception in the Grange Hall of Busti.

Those attending from Youngsville were Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Conklin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rapp and Mrs. Edna Haupin.

HOME FROM EUROPE

Herman Rhulman, after eight months of service in Europe in which he was in combat duty and received the European campaign ribbon, good conduct medal, battle star and an award for marksmanship, was honorably discharged this month at Fort Benning, Ga. He is now at home with his wife and three children. The Ruhlman family are planning to celebrate Thanksgiving at home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Ruhlman.

MORE BOYS GETTING HOME

Youngsville friends and relatives have reason to enjoy Thanksgiving more this year than last as boys are returning from over seas.

Warren Kingsley is just returning fro ma long stay in the Admiralty Islands as a Seabee.

Mrs. Orrie Maasz has just received word that her husband Herbert Maasz, who has been in African Theatre of War is now in America. He is expected in Youngsville soon being recently located at Camp Patrick Henry.

Charles Briggs' who has been in Italy and has written some most interesting letters home concerning Rome and other points of interest in Italy has just been honorably discharged and is on a visit to his parents in Youngsville, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briggs.

The brothers Cecil Ash of the navy and Francis Ash also of the navy who has been on a submarine are now home together on furlough .

Captain Howard Spencer after having made a record in the European Air Force is now on furlough home with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer. His fiance, Miss Helen Loschke of Kansas City, Mo., is also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer.

YOUNGSVILLE BRIEFS

Recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Abraham were Mr. and Mrs. Helm, who have moved into the John Thompson house on West Main street extension.

The Methodist choir is preparing a cantata "The Shepherd King" which will be presented in the church Sunday evening, Dec. 16th.

Communion will be observed in the Methodist church Sunday Dec. 2nd. Warren Sub District Youth Fellowship are meeting in the Youngsville Methodist church at 3 p. m. Sunday, Nov. 25th.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

EDWARD J. SULLIVAN HONORABLY DISCHARGED

Pfc. Edward J. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Sullivan, Youngsville RD 1, arrived home Tuesday morning after serving nearly two years in the army and receiving his honorable discharge. He earned the Good Conduct Medal.

FRANK HODAS HOME FROM ARMY

Pfc. Frank Hodas, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Corbran, 1000 West Fifth avenue, has been honorably discharged from military service at Indiantown Gap separation center and has returned to his former employment at Struthers-Wells. He entered service in July, 1943, and went overseas in January, 1944, serving with an ordnance section of the Fifth Army in North Africa and Italy. Two battle stars decorate his theatre ribbon.

FROM CBI THEATRE

Lt. Louis A. Eckland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eckland, 201 Dartmouth street, has left for Greensboro, N. C., for reassignment, after a 45-day leave at home. He recently returned from overseas, serving one year in the China, India, Burma theatre.

NEIL CULBERTSON IS BACK IN STATES

Mrs. Jessie Culbertson, 315 Poplar street, has received word that her son, Neil, chief ship fitter in the Seabees, has arrived in Seattle, Washington, from Leyte, and will be in Bainbridge, Md., within the next two weeks. Chief Culbertson served in the Solomons and the Philippines and was awarded two bronze stars. C. B. 568, with which he first served, was attached to a number of marine outfits, and was awarded the Seventh Fleet Admiral's citation. The maintenance of assault and landing craft, together with beach and dock operations, comprised the major part of the unit's assignment.

GRAHAM BOYS EXPECTED

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Graham, 700 East street, had a pleasant surprise Tuesday when they received a telephone call from Boston from their son, Corp. Paul Graham. He just returned from overseas, having served 2½ years in the European theatre. His family hope to see him this week.

Another son, Clifford, radioman 1/c, called from San Francisco last Saturday. He has been in the Pacific theatre, and expects to be home the first of the year.

ON OKINAWA

Word has been received from Pvt. Paul C. Muscaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Muscaro, 1215 Spring street, that he has arrived on Okinawa.

HOWARD F. ELMHURST ENDS NAVY TOUR

Howard F. Elmhurst, machinist's mate second class on the USS Alcar, has been discharged from naval service after three and one-half years. He is just home from Tokyo Bay and is enjoying a reunion with his brother, A. Elmhurst, 223 Oneida avenue.

Tips For Teen-Age Gifts

By NEA Service

If it's new, different and wearable, it's perfect for the teen-ager's Christmas. You won't go wrong if you buy her something that covers her head, like the gray wool jersey hood with matching gaiters, or something that cinches her waist, like the red felt belt with fringed pouch attached—illustrated on the teen-age skater in the center. Other sure-fire successes, top to bottom at left, are costume or real jeweled lockets which can be worn on a velvet ribbon; a flashing corduroy beret with matching gloves in pastel or brilliant colors; and knitted ballet tights and jumper tops for lounging or wear with a wrap-around skirt. Striped ballet slippers, upper right, are perfect teammates for the tights ensemble, or to wear after skiing. Also for skiing there are a number of new giddy sweaters sporting huge peacocks and reindeer. And at long last, high-styled skating costumes again are being manufactured.

Supervisors And Auditors Hold Meeting

The Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, conducted the devotional exercises with which supervisors and auditors of the county opened their annual convention at the court house this morning.

Judge Allison D. Wade gave the address of welcome to the visitors from the county and further addresses of the morning session were delivered by O. C. Tritt, county farm agent; Dr. L. E. Chapman, state senator; H. A. Thompson, secretary of the state association of township supervisors.

Following the luncheon adjournment, the session reconvened at 1:30 p. m., with roll call, election of officers, report of the resolutions committee and other business. Talks at this session were given by Harry O. Wheelock, of Franklin, who is district township engineer and former Warren resident; Warren Lowe, county superintendent of highways and Mr. Thompson, the state secretary.

One of the most interesting figures at the convention was William Trushel, 81 years of age, who has been a supervisor in Mead township for about 53 years. Mr. Trushel, who lives in the third district of Mead township, was elected "pathfinder" in 1892, served three six-year terms as supervisor, was later appointed to fill a vacancy and elected for three different terms. Last year he was not a candidate, feeling that he had served his community long enough.

CHURCH REVIVALS

AT UNITED BRETHREN

All are invited to hear the Nelsons at their first service in the First United Bretnren church this evening, and are reminded "there's always something special when the Nelsons are here." Mr. Nelson is an able, dynamic preacher; also a baritone soloist with deep, rich voice, and an enthusiastic song leader. He and his wife are accomplished musicians, their solos, duets and special numbers on the piano, solovox, guitar and tiple are always important features of the meetings.

Personal Paragraphs

R. G. Anderson, of Tulsa, Okla., who has been attending the American Petroleum Institute in Chicago, is spending the weekend visiting his parents Mr .and Mrs. E..G Anderson, and his brother, M. E. Anderson. He had expected to have with him his son, Ensign Robert G. Anderson, assigned to the battleship USS Washington, now stationed at Philadelphia, but an unexpected sea assignment prevented his coming.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bartz, of Rochester, Pa., are here to spend Thanksgiving and the weekend with the latter's mother, Mrs. Sadie Lucie, 729 Market street.

Plan to Repeat Children's Radio Drama Production

A repeat performance of Alice in Wonderland will be given by popular request Sunday afternoon on the Metzger-Wright Company radio drama series program. Because of certain technical difficulties at station WJTN last Sunday, it was necessary to present the play at 3 o'clock instead of the usual hour. As a result many interested listeners failed to hear the production, which had been anticipated by children and adults.

Because of the number of requests for a re-broadcast, arrangements were completed this morning with WJTN to have a second performance on Sunday, November 25th. The re-broadcast will be made through the courtesy of station WJTN.

All boys and children in the cast are asked to be at the public library on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The final rehearsal for the second performance will be held on Saturday afternoon after the Christmas parade.

Listeners who heard the presentation of the children's classic on Sunday were delighted with the performance. There were also many coments in Jamestown about the work of the boys and girls, particularly that of nine-year old Sally Nelson, who portrayed Alice.

Metzger Store Doing Well In Victory Loan

With the Victory Bond Drive but a little more than half over, the Metzger-Wright Company has achieved a little over two thirds of its quota of $60,000 with a total to date of $40,750. The entire personnel is divided into three teams, the red, captained by Miss Margaret Nesmith; the Blue with Mrs. Loraine Lane as its captain and the white which has as its captain Mrs. Mary Jane Olander. From day to day, in fact almost from hour to hour the standings of these teams change, at first the Red Team was far in the lead but at present the Blue team leads all with a total of $18,706.25 against the Red's $11,793.75 and the White's $7,775.00

In the individual standings of the coworkers, Nina Sitler leads with a total of $15,075, with Ruth Woodin second with $5,837.00 and Janet Erickson with $5,168.75. The highest in dollars in the number of E Bonds sold is Victoria Staaf first with Helen Brockway and Mary Eckardt tied for second place and Theresa Smith in third. In the highest number of E bonds sold Mary Eckardt is first with 11 bonds, Harriet Chatley second with 8 and Mildred Carter third with 7. Much friendly rivalry is taking place for one of the three prizes which is to be awarded in these divisions.

A United States Treasury Department Victory Award will go to each of the coworkers selling $300 or more during the Victory Loan drive, given "For outstanding wartime service—for seeing the fight through to the finish in supporting the Victory Loan" which is signed by Fred M. Vinson, Secretary of the Treasury.

The Metzger-Wright Company urges everyone to buy Victory Bonds and if they are not already obligated to buy them from their favorite salesperson at the store.

United War Fund Achieves Its Goal

General Chairman Edward W. Johnson reports that the Warren County United War Fund Campaign has finally achieved a total of $88,706.00, which is in excess of the 1945 goal. This sum includes surplus funds in the treasury which accumulated from oversubscriptions in the 1943 and 1944 campaigns.

The National and Local Participating Agencies will therefore receive their full allotments as the payments fall due.

Gershwin Bros. Music and Lyrics Will Be Heard Again

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 21—(AP)—"Music and lyrics by George and Ira Gershwin"—those magic words will appear again on a new motion picture.

Ira Gershwin is completing the lyrics for "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," a score he has written in collaboration with unpublished works by his brother George. At his home, Ira told me how it happened.

"When George died in 1938," he said, "Kay Swift, who had worked with him, and I went over all of his notes. We were able to collect at least 37 tunes. We put them away, together with a dozen songs my brother and I had written but never used."

This year 20th-Fox producer William Perlberg asked Ira to do a score for the "Pilgrim." They hunted for a composer, but all seemed to be busy or unacceptable. One day Ira again met Miss Swift and he hastened to Perlberg with the suggestion: "How would you like me to write the score with George?"

I asked to hear the songs and Ira consented, allowing that it was the first time he had ever auditioned for the Associated Press. Miss Swift played the piano and the lyricist sang for the first public performance of the new Gershwin tunes.

It was a rare experience to hear the songs of a genius whose work was believed to be concluded. All of the 10 tunes are unmistakably Gershwin and at least one, "For You, For Me, Forever," should be as big as any of his hits.

Gwendolyn Stone is a girl who won't let a handicap keep her from a career in the movies. The 22-year-old Santa Monica girl became deaf and dumb after an attack of measles at the age of three. She learned to read lips and graduated from Santa Monica high school with honors.

She took dance lessons for five years and was good enough to appear in many USO shows. Then she got a job dancing in "Night and Day."

Gwendolyn watched the dance coach and the other dancers to get the pattern of the routine and then listened to the music with a hearing aid. During the shooting of the numbers she picked up the rhythm and vibrations with her hands and feet. Those who watched her at Warner Brothers predict a great future.

Fred Astaire Insists He Has Appeared In His Last Dance

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 21—There wasn't much to talk to Fred Astaire about. It had been well publicized that he was tired and was going to retire, perhaps returning later to produce pictures, so ostly I just watched while he performed his last dance routine in motion pictures.

He was dressed as most people remember him—the dapper top hat, striped trousers and tails, spats and cane. His cly grin occasionally crept over his face, but he was drim and intent, as he laways is when thinking out a routine. He tapped the floor nervously while waiting for the camera to get ready.

"People can't seem to believe I'm really retiring," he told me. "They think I must be kidding." I asked if he would ever dance for his own pleasure during his retirement.

"Naw," he said. "The only time I really feel like dancing is when I hear some really hot swing music."

The camera was ready and he began his "putting on the ritz" number for "Blue Skies." It was a hot, fast routine with all the charm and grace and imagination that made him the best known dancer of the century.

The number was a trick shot involving mirrors and split sets and it took many takes before he finished it. At 5:30 Astaire, sweating and weary, walked back to his dressing room for the last time. He said to me: "Forty-one years of this. Do you wonder that I'm quitting?"

Red Skelton received a wild ovation when he returned to the MGM lot. He'll begin "The Showoff" within a month . . . David Niven is expected to return around Christmas to begin "The Bishop's Wife" for Goldwyn. His wife, son and new baby will remain in England for a while . . . Robert Mitchum ain't kidding about the title of his current picture, "The Dream of Home." He may have to pitch a pup tent in a vacant lot . . . Eddie Heywood is cutting an album for Decca. . . . The Hollywood canteen will close Thanksgiving Day with probably the biggest show in this town's history. The canteen's half million dollar surplus has been transferred to a foundation board of trustees, including Bette Davis, who will decide what to do with it.

Restaurant Licenses Are Being Mailed

The first 1500 restaurant licenses to be issued by the State Health Department under the new legislation regulating the conduct and operation of public eating and drinking places within the Commonwealth have been mailed from Harrisburg.

The Restaurant Sanitation Law was passed by the 1945 Session of the Legislature and became effective when it was signed by Governor Martin on May 23, 1945. The licensing sectionof the Act that, ". . . From and after a period of six months after the effective date of this act, it shall be unlawful for any proprietor to conduct or operate a public eating or drinking place without first obtaining a license, as herein provided . . ."

Dr. Harry W. Weest, secretary of health said that in all probability it would be impossible to mail all of the licenses before November 23, 1945, the effective date of the Act. "Proprietors of public eating and drinking places who have not received licenses by November 23 may continue to operate their restaurants if their establishments have been inspected and approved by a State Sanitarian," Dr. Weest stated. "Their licenses will be mailed in the immediate future."

Korea's Peculiar Customs Are Intriguing to a Visitor

By HAL BOYLE

South Korea, Nov. 21—(AP)—In the "land of the morning calm" you have to stay up all night on New Year's eve or your eyebrows will turn gray. That, at least, is one of many popular beliefs.

Korea, waiting impatiently to essay modern statehood whenever the Russian and American troops depart, still leans heavily on her Antiquity.

During 40 years of Japanese occupation and industrialization, the country has been westernized to a degree, but education has been limited to a small segment of the population. In the rural areas literally millions of illiterates still adhere to the old customs, fables and foibles.

The women of each household have an inner "hen room" which no male is allowed to enter.

The luckiest day of the year is July 7, because it is the seventh day of the seventh month.

Girls pray to the stars Altair and Vega to improve their sewing skill so they will not lose their husbands.

Koreans have an easy way of disposing of unwelcome callers: Whether you have a servant or not, the visitor arriving at your door must stand outside and bellow, "tell the master that so-and-so is calling."

If you don't like the guy or he bores you, just raise your voice as if addressing your imaginary servant and bellow back, "tell him the master is not in."

The visitor gets the idea and scrams.

Another visiting custom is that no gentleman steps inside the house to visit your wife unless you, master of the house, are there to keep an eye on him.

Also, when someone calls on you the first time he is required by custom to start right off by telling his full name, age, occupation and style of living. Then you know whether to give him the brush-off or break out your bottle. Usually, however, in contrast with the Japanese system of dishing out tea to all comers, the Korean offers visitors tobacco.

Boys don't marry at the age of 11 or 12 very much any more, nor girls at 14 or 15, as once was the practice.

Many a bridegroom, however, still swears his wedding oath at the bride's home in front of a wooden carving of a wild goose, brought by himself. Then the bride goes to his house on a palanquin, serves wine to his parents, and worships before the ancestral tablets.

The bridegroom takes her back to her house and spends three days there before bringing her to his old man's house, where they finally set up housekeeping. Dutiful brides then do all of the mother-in-law's housework.

When someone dies, an announcer climbs to the roof of the house and waves the clothes of the departed to make public his passing. Women mourners are hired for the funeral. No cats are allowed in the room where the body is kept.

The funeral services are elaborate and expensive. The pallbearers are paid to cry out their woe as they carry the coffin to the grave.

Many villagers believe a spirit they call Chansun has the power to drive away demons. They set up wooden images along the roadside to tickle Chansun's vanity and to persuade him to drive all evil spirits into the next township, which in turn has put up some images of its own.

On the sportive side of life, chess, archery and wrestling all are popular, but the grunt and groan industry's boys don't make the sort of dough they do in America.

SCIENTIFIC PITCHING

Baseball pitchers employ the "Magnus principle" every time they throw a curve. This scientific law was discovered by Gustav Mangus in 1852. It is to the effect that "a rotating sphere in the wind receives a pressure that shoves it sideways as well as in the direction of the wind."

Leading anthropologists regard Eskimos as merely one kind of North American Indian, both in blood and language.

Dangerous Years

By MULLEN DRUG CO.

When your child is between the ages of two and ten, he is in that period of life when diphtheria—the killer—is most likely to strike.

Between two and three this scourge is most likely to kill; it strikes most often at the ages of five and six.

But immunization against this malady can safely see a child through the dangerous years. See that your child is protected against this killer of the young—and do not wait until he is ready for school. Those of preschool age should be protected; your family physician will do the immunization and by infallible tests will assure safety.

The pure, tested serums your doctor uses are provided by the properly stocked and equipped pharmacy.

Eagles Hear Fine Address By Sundberg

To maintain permanent peace the nations of the world must adopt the ideals of the Fraternal Order of Eagles—liberty, truth, justice and equality—C. A. (Sunny) Sundberg, national Eagle speaker and philosopher told members of Conewango Aerie in an address last night at the Eagles' clubhouse.

The smiling, dynamic guest of the Warren Eagles, interspersing his talk with anecdotes and humor, defined the Eagle spirit as the "right attitude toward God and man."

Sundberg, who is on a tour of Pennsylvania Aeries, paid tribute to the humaritarian spirit of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which has a membership climbing toward the million mark, the largest of any benefit paying fraternal organization in America.

Sundberg pointed out that "Eagle eyes" see a vital need for proper youth guidance, aid to returning servicemen, extension of social security and stimulation of postwar employment. The national organization has launched programs to attain these objectives. In the past "Eagle eyes" were directed at workmen's compensation laws, mothers' pensions, old age pensions and social security, measures which the organization sponsored and worked for until they were enacted into law. Sundberg said.

The speaker said the purpose of "Eagle claws" was "to lift and help wherever possible, to hold as lang as we can, and to fight when necessary." He added "Eagle wings" were directed at "moving onward, upward and God-ward."

"The F. O. E. means finest on earth as well as the Fraternal Order of Eagles," Sundberg said. "The finest things on earth are human beings, fraternity and our nation."

Sundberg told his listeners to talk about the "Three Ours—ourselves, our fraternity, and our country."

NEW WEIGHT, SIZE REGULATIONS FOR OVERSEAS MAILING

James K. Bell, local postmaster, has announced the new weight and size limits for parcels to Army personnel overseas as follows: parcels not exceeding 11 pounds in weight or 42 inches in length or 72 inches in length and girth combined, containing articles requested by the addressee, may be accepted for mailing to Army personnel overseas."

Mr. Bell further stated his department has not received any official notification of any change in the weight and size of parcels for Navy Personnel.

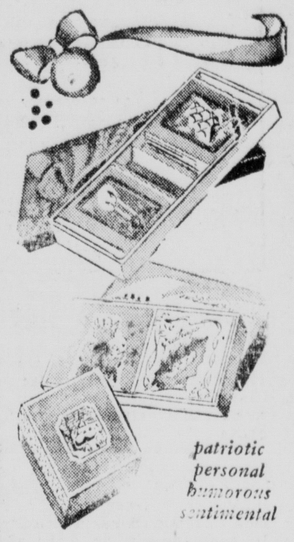

THE STATE POLICE SAY:

Accident reports show that the majority of fatal and non-fatal accidents occur on the straight-away. Such movements as turning, parking and parking require care and precision if you wish to keep fenders from being smashed, but if you wish to keep the human body from being smashed equal care should be used while traveling straight ahead. Remember, speed is the chief cause of accidents and that only when going straight ahead does a driver tread heavily on the accelerator.

POLICE SEEK RULING ON FIRING A WEAPON

Philadelphia, Nov. 20—(AP)—The State Lodge, Fraternal Order of Police, wants the Pennsylvania superior court to rule on when a policeman can fire his gun.

The request was prompted on behalf of Police Chief William C. Duerr of Stowe township, Allegheny county, who was convicted on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the death of two men he believed were automobile thieves. The men were later proved innocent.

The Fraternal Order of Police asked the court to help policemen "avoid entrapment and consequent bondage for doing that which they honestly believed to be their duty." Duerr, free on $10,000 bond, is appealing his conviction.

Gifts for a Wonderful Christmas

He can be big only in his love

No use for Son-o-man to boast about the big things he can do—about how fast he can travel, how high he can build and how much he can destroy at one stroke. He is still a creature of little consequence—a small man, except in his LOVE.

The Earth upon which Son-o-man is born and lives briefly is itself a small thing compared to the place it's in and to the other things in the same place. It is very much bigger and goes very much faster than anything Son-o-man can devise. Right now it is going around the Sun at the rate of 1140 miles a minute or 68,400 miles an hour, carrying Son-o-man and everything else he does with it.

Son-o-man's three score and ten short years on this earth are but a very, very short time compared to the number of years this earthly ball has been going 'round and 'round the Sun.

And Son-o-man knows in his heart that the best thing he can do is to live on the best of terms with his brothers and sisters—the other visitors on this earth who come and go like himself.

And Son-o-man also knows deep in his heart that the only thing he can be big in is his LOVE.

FISHBEIN DOUBLE SHOULD BEAT BID

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

This is the third of a series of articles based on the "Fishbein Convention," which will be used against pre-emptive bidding at the Atlantic City nationals.

In using this convention against weak two-bids or pre-emptive three-bids. Fishbein emphasizes that the bid of the next higher ranking suit for a takeout is made only by the bidder sitting directly over the pre-emptive bidder. Therefore, a double in this position means that the pre-emptive bid can be beaten.

In today's hand, when North bids three diamonds, Fishbein says that it would be too dangerous for East to bid three hearts, with his partner having passed. He recommends, therefore, that East pass, but West, holding a singleton diamond, is justified in doubling. This is not a business double, because it is made by the player sitting under the pre-emptive bidder. It asks partner to show his best suit. East now bids four hearts which is made easily.

DETERMINES OVERCALL

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

This is the fourth of a series of six articles based on the Fishbein convention, which was developed by Harry J. Fishbein and Corp. Alvin Roth.

North opens the bidding on today's hand with a pre-emptive bid of three diamonds. If East overcalled with the conventional bid of three hearts (the next higher ranking suit), he would be asking West to bid his best suit. But East has a good suit of his own and, in this case. Fishbein recommends a bid of three spades. This bid shows a good hand with a good spade suit, but needs a free raise from partner to go to game. In other words, East admits that his hand is not strong enough to make the informatory double bid of three hearts. West has a good hand and correctly bids four spades.

SUSPENSION NOTICE

The following memorandum has been received at the Local War Price and Rationing Board: "To suspend from price control meals, food items and beverages served on Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day, New Year's Eve, and New Year's Day if the establishments making use of this suspension file in advance with their local war price and Rationing Board two copies of the proposed menus which they plan to adopt."

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND

Eternal vigilance where the blind are concerned, keeping a watchful eye for the white cane with the red tip, when the afflicted persons carry for their own protection, was urged upon motor vehicle operators by Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris in a statement today as follows: "When a motorist observes in traffic a man or woman carrying a white cane with a red tip that driver should slow down or stop, if necessary, traffic signals or no traffic signals, to guarantee the safety of that individual. For that person is blind and the cane is a symbol of his affliction, and his only potection against death or inqury at the hands of some careless driver. The Lions Clubs of Pennsylvania have provided the blind with red-tipped canes to protect them in traffic. Every motor vehicle operator should fix that firmly in his mind and be guided by it while driving on our streets and highways."

Men's Class Host For Ladies' Night

The 6:30 o'clock dinner and program which featured the Ladies' Night of the First Methodist Men's Class held Monday night in Founders Hall, was attended by 45 couples.

Dinner music was provided by Helen Eckhart Olson, violinist, with Evelyn Wolstencroft as accompanist. Group singing was led by Monroe Marshall, with R. Pierson Eaton at the piano. Program arrangements were in the hands of Paul Yagge and included a welcome to the Ladies by President Frank Wood; two vocal numbers by Mr. Marshall, "Hills of Home" by Fox" and "Bless This House". Miss Wolstencroft was at the piano for his accompaniments.

Earle Flohr, recently home after 18 months of service with the American Red Cross in Italy, told the group of some of his experiences. Concluding, a very amusing radio skit, "The Grate American Broadcasting Company", was presented.

The program followed serving at tables attractively decorated in fall shades, with candles, ears of freshly husked corn and fall flowers used in attractive appointments.

Army Tackle Is Named Top Grid Lineman

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Army's great line finally landed a hunk of individual recognition this week when Dewitt "Tex" Coulter, mountainous Cadet tackle, was chosen by the Associated Press pole of the nation's sports writers as "Lineman of the Week."

The hulking 222-pounder, who has played a whale of a game in each of Army's crushing victories this season, gained the honor in a wild balloting spree in which three of his teammates also were nominated as outstanding in the Cadets' 61-0 triumph over Penn at Philadelphia.

Coach George Munger of the Quakers certified the verdict of the writers by singling out Coulter as the lineman who did the most to bash his boys into defete. His two-word description of Coulter was "just terrific."

Outside of the huzzahs for Coulter and company, the loudest drums were beaten for Ohio State's great guard, Warren Amling, a previous recipient of the "lineman" award.

As in the case of Army, there was disagreement among the writers as to what lineman played the biggest role in the week's two boggest upsets—Temple's win over Holy Cross and U. C. L. A.'s victary over St. Mary's.

Both center Mort Hochheiser, who bated down eight passes, and guard Mark Dolin were nominated as Temple's main hero up front. Coach Ray Morrison cast a close vote for Hochheiser, calling his play "inspirational." U. C. L. A.'s celebrated right guard, Al Sparlis, divided honors with Ed Tyson, Bruin center, for having contributed the most to the first St. Mary's defeat.

Aerial Crown Near Luckman In Pro Loop

Chicago, Nov. 21—(AP)—Although he is only tossing for fun quarterback Sid Luckman of the bedraggled Chicago Bears is headed for his first National Football League passing title.

Under the league's grading system, Luckman took the lead by tying Sammy Baugh of Washington in number of completions, 96, and topping him in yardage gained, 1,361 to 1,228, and in touchdown passes, 10 to 7. Baugh, however, has a better percentage of completions, .700 against .530, and has had only two passes intercepted, compared with seven errant Luckman tosses. Bob Waterfield of Cleveland is third.

The battle for individual ground-gaining laurels still is a cozy race between Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia and Washington's Frank Akins. Van Buren has amassed 567 yards in 88 attempts, while Akins has 539 in 104.

Don Hutson, Green Bay's "old man River" end, has all but clinched the scoring and pass receiving titles. His 89 points on 10 touchdowns and 29 conversions leave Van Buren far behind in second with 66. Hutson has caught 42 passes for 779 yards, compared with 32 receptions for 489 yards by runner-up Steve Bagarus of Washington.

Predicts a Close Army-Navy Game

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Laverne G. "Blondy" Saunders, has a word for the odds-makers about the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia, Dec. 1.

Speaking before the Touchdown Club, the former West Point star and decorated hero who lost a leg in the Pacific War said:

"Points on the service game? Anyone who would give them ought to have his head examined. You can throw all previous scores out the window when Army and Navy meet.

"They've two fine American football teams, and they'll knock hell out of each other in a vigorous, friendly way, which is just the way we want it to be."

Army currently is favored to beat the Navy by up to 30 points.

Bummy Davis Shot By Tavern Bandit

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—A man identified by police as Al (Bummy) Davis, 26-year old former contender for the world's lightweight and weiterweight boxing titles, was shot to death outside a Brooklyn tavern early today.

The assistant chief inspector's office said Davis was trying to stop four men who robbed the tavern. Davis, who real name was Albert Davidoff, was shot through the chest.

The boxer, who scored one of the ring's outstanding upsets in 1944 with a one-round knockout of then lightweight champion Bob Montgomery in a non-title bout, met many of the ring's top fighters during his career.

Meanwhile the police department's crack pistol marksmen, all members of the force's prize-winning gun teams, patrolled New York City's streets in a further step in the city-wide campaign against mounting violence and crime.

Newhouser Is Most Valued In American

By JACK HAND

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Hal Newhouser, 24-year old pitching ace of the World Champion Detroit Tigers, today added a second straight American League most valuable player award to his harvest of laurels.

The slim Detroit native who southpawed Steve O'Neill's Bengals to a pair of series triumphs, including the seventh decisive tilt with the Chicago Cubs, had a runaway in the voting of the Baseball Writers Association.

The writers last week voted Phil Cavarretta, first baseman of the pennant-winning Chicago Cubs, as the most valuable player in the National League.

Last year Newhouser just squeezed past teammate Dizzy Trout by one point but this time the talented lefthander polled a 72-point margin over his nearest rival, second baseman Eddie Mayo, another important cog in the Tiger machine.

Detroit fans will agree with the verdict of the writers for it was Hurricane Hal who came in on relief to save the "pennant" game against St. Louis on the final day of the season, picking up his 25th win to nine defeats. Over a two-year stretch Newhouser has piled up 54 victories against 18 losses.

Only once before in the history of the most valuable voting in the junior circuit had a player won the crown two years running. Jimmy Foxx did it in 1932 and 1933. He also won it in 1938. Joe DiMaggio, Lou Gehrig, Hank Greenberg, Mickey Cochrane and Walter Johnson, each was honored twice but not in successive seasons.

Johnson's dates back to the old Chalmers award days

Newhouser matched his 1944 point total to 236, receiving nine first place votes from the 24 writers, three representing each city in the league. Mayo's 164 points just shaded George Stirnweiss of New York who drew 161 for copping the batting title at .309, and showing the way with 33 stolen bases.

Dave Ferriss, Boston's Freshman phenom who stepped out of the army air corps to win 21 games in his first shot at the big time, was a strong fourth with 148 points, followed by George Myatt, a key man in Washington's pennant drive that just did fall short. Myatt had 98 votes to 94 for Vern Stephens of St. Louis.

Roger Wolff, knuckle balling ace of Washington's strong pitching staff took seventh place with 78 points to 70 for Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland who missed the last month or so of the campaign due to injuries. George Case of the Senators followed in ninth position with 60 and Paul Richards, the Detroit catcher who was given much of the credit for the Tigers' success, rounded out the first 10 with 35 points.

First place votes were distributed nine to Newhouser, seven to Mayo, four to Stirnweiss, two to Ferriss and one each to Myatt and Joe Kuhel of the Senators who finished in 12th position.

Newhouser will receive the second annual Kenesaw Mountain Landis memorial plaque as baseball's official designation.

Sportsmen In Co. Oppose Bounty Halt

Warren county sportsmen today launched an all-out attack to halt a possible suspension of the four-dollar bounty on predatory animals in the state by the Pennsylvania State Game Commission.

Jay Pees, district forester and spokesman for the group, said this morning that the Warren Field and Stream Club's predatory control committee, which met last night to discuss the topic, decided unanimously against the cessation of a bounty on the animals, particularly foxes.

According to information received here, sportsmen in thee eastern part of the state, who are little bothered by the predators, were forwarding a movement to favor passage by the commission to stop the bounty rate. However, Pees stated that the poor small game hunting conditions in and about the county this season can be blamed upon the predators.

All fox trappers are asked to meet Sunday afternoon, November 25, at 2:30 in front of the Municipal building with their bags taken so far this season. Pictures will be taken of the pelts and trappers, and these will be used in the campaign against the passage of a bill halting the bounty rate.

Chapter 7

[Sunday 8:10 a.m. to 9:58 a.m.]

"WAKE up! Wake up!"

The words went on and on, echoing through Julia's head. She opened her eyes, then closed them again. Her head was a whirl of buzzing pain.

"Julia! Wake up! The police are here again. The guard was knocked out last night. You have to wake up."

It was Virginia's voice and her usual cool tones were anxious.

Slowly, tortuously, memory brought the events of the night before into Julia's aching head. She was in her own bed again and that was queer. She had gone down in the foyer and that was the last thing she knew.

"My head hurts."

"At least you can talk and that's some relief," Virginia said. "I'll get you some aspirin."

She went into the bathroom and Julia saw she had put on a sport skirt and sweater of hers and that they were both too small. Where had Virginia been last night when she had tried to find her?

She didn't have a chance to ask her. Gertrude, the maid who did the cleaning and lived out, knocked briefly and entered.

"There's police here that wants to see madam right away," she announced, gasping a little.

Julia sat up, and her throbbing head seemed too heavy to hold erect. When Virginia came with the aspirin and a glass of water, she took two tablets and drank the water, then sank back down.

"I'm sorry. My head hurts so I can't get up."

She thought the two women looked at her curiously. They both went out of the room but Virginia was back soon.

"Who is your doctor, Julia? If you don't have a doctor the police will say you're faking. If you'll recall you didn't look dazed with grief last night."

"Doctor Wandell." She spoke the name without thinking and memory of the man sitting beside Jerry with quiet solicitude gave her a peace that calmed the jagged questions piercing her sore head. She closed her eyes.

Seconds went by — this time like punctured balloons, flat and small. She dozed and dreamed. She awakened and lay unthinking. At last she was aroused by the entrance of Dr. Wandell. He sat beside her and took her pulse.

"Something happened." It was a statement.

"Yes. Some one struck me on the head last night when I went into the foyer. But I woke up in bed. Isn't that odd? Her voice had only a mild curiosity. The terror of the early morning seemed vague.

He bent over her, his long fingers exploring her head. She winced when he touched the right side close to the back. He sat in the chair again and held her hand.

"I think you'll be all right, my dear, and I'm not sure it is a good thing to tell the police. Virginia has told them that both of you slept in here and that she could have known if you had left the room. No one was here last night but you two and Moore and the detective who was left to watch the place has a bad concussion this morning. I wasn't told whether the police know why the guard was knocked out or not but Moore thinks the drawing room was searched. If you say you were in the foyer then neither you nor Virginia has an alibi. Evidently Virginia didn't hear you leave."

"She wasn't here."

His hand closed more tightly over hers.

"It's hard to know. I've seen the law do stupid things yet I've known of some brilliant detection. I think if we could play for time it would help."

"I'll tell them I slept hard all night." Julia told him with a weak smile.

"I believe that's best. Then they won't waste time trying to involve you. As it is you're the lo ical person to suspect and they neglect every other possibility."

"But surely I'd have no reas for knocking out the detectiv she protested.

His eyes grew soft.

"Oh, you poor innocent chil Don't you know they suspect y of murdering Robey?"

INCREDULITY and fright stru gled for a hold within her. was preposterous that any o should think that she would k Robey. At the same time s knew the doctor was right.

"But I wasn't near him when happened."

His thin lips pressed grimly t gether.

"You don't think I was?"

"No. I want to help you, t and I have to protect some o else. You will be in less dang if you say nothing—tell nothi that is at all possible to keep."

FREDRICKSON'S

Reading Is Still Without Papers

Reading, Nov. 21—(AP)—Merchants in this eastern Pennsylvania city were a little better situated for the Christmas rush today after a 20-day strike of truckers ended.

Now, one merchant observed, they can get merchandise—but they still can't advertise because of a strike of typographers at the Reading Eagle Company.

The 600 truckers went back to work after 38 firms agreed yesterday to grant the men, members of Local 429, Teamsters Union (AFL), wage increases of $3 to $4.80 weekly.

But there was no settlement in sight of the strike which had kept Reading newspapers since Sept. 8. The 73 workers, members of Local 86, International Typographers Union (AFL), asserted the company balked at signing a new contract.

Publishers of the Reading Morning Times, Afternoon Eagle and Sunday Eagle—all operated by the Eagle Company—filed breach of contract charges against the union and the union filed countercharges.

Richardson's Removal Is Given Airing

against the blockade, he said today he had consulted with war plans division officers here who drew up the message for Hart.

The naval officers assumed, the message showed, that "the United States is prepared to accept war" if the blockade brought counteraction by Jaapn.

Among the other assumptions was that the United States would support British forces in Australia and Singapore and Dutch forces in the East Indies.

In his report of the Oct. 8, 1940 White House conversation Richardson testified earlier he asked Mr. Roosevelt if this country was going to enter the war. He paraphrased the president's reply as follows:

"He replied that if the Japanese attacked Thailand, or the Dutch East Indies, we would not enter the war; that if they even attacked the Philippines he doubted whether we would enter the war, but that they could not always avoid making mistakes and that as the war continued and the area of operations expanded sooner or later they would make a mistake and we would enter the war."

Murphy said he feared this statement on the Philippines might have "repercussions." Accordingly, he said he asked Leahy about it.

He quoted the admiral as replying that he, Leahy, had a sharp recollection of Richardson's having argued for return of the fleet from Hawaii to the Pacific coast but that he had no recollection of the president's having expressed doubt that an attack on the Philippines might provoke this country to war.

office, she set up shop in the kitchen of one of the Force families.

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—(AP)—A hearing will be held in Pittsburgh soon on the appeal of the Shawmut Mining Company fro mthe decision of an unemployment compensation referee that some 400 miners at Force, are engaged in a bonafide labor dispute.

Melvin I. Jacobs, secretary of the board of review of the unemployment compensation fund said that Chairman Harry A. Englehart would hold the hearing. The date has yet to be fixed.

DELAYING ACTION PLANNED

Washington. Nov. 21—(AP)—Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.)—served notice today he will carry to a conference committee his fight for as long a delay as possible in returning the U. S. Employment Service to the states. The Tennessean told a reporter he will try to win house conferees over to a 120-day stay, as voted by the senate yesterday when it approved $51,244,680,213 in cutbacks of wartime appropriations.

Nationalists Are Near Hingcheng

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Nov. 21—(AP)—Nationalist troops who broke into Manchuria through the Great Wall were reported by the army newspaper Ho Ping Pao today to be approaching Hingcheng on the Peiping-Mukden railroad some 60 miles northeast of Shanhaikwan.

The Nationalists encountered little or no resistance, the report indicated, as their present position is 25 miles northeast of yesterday's.

The newspaper predicted the Communist-held port of Hulutao, 17 miles northeast of Hingcheng, would be captured in a few days. It said the area between the eastern end of the Great Wall and Funing, about 25 miles westward, had been cleared by the government forces.

Communist sources in Chungking, meanwhile, drew attention to what they described as a "serious situation" in central China, where more than 100,000 government troops were purportedly massing. The insurgent spokesman asserted large scale fighting is expected soon in central Honan and northern Hupeh provinces, where 14 government divisions are strung along a 110-mile front, facing the Communist Eighth Route Army and the new Fourth Army, which recently joined forces.

Erie Drops From Pony Loop Action

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 21—(AP)—The Board of Directors of the Class D PONY baseball league has reinstated the Hamilton, Ont., club and dropped the Erie, Pa., team from the circuit.

The Erie nine had operated the Hamilton franchise for two years. The Sailors expect to return to the Class C Middle Atlantic League which suspended operations during the war.

A 126-game schedule, the same number of contests as last year, was adopted by the directors at their annual meeting yesterday. The season opens the first Wednesday in May and ends Labor Day.

Robert C. Stedler was re-elected president and secretary-treasurer of the eight-team league. Dr. Hugh J. Ryan, mayor of Bradford, Pa., was elected vice president to succeed William J. Schumacher, owner of the Lockport club.

NOTED AUTHOR DIES

Seek To Find G. I. Graves In Japan

Tokyo, Nov. 21—(AP)—Allied headquarters today directed the Japanese government to compile information on the location of graves of Allied personnel in Japan, reporting full details before Dec. 15. The directive coincided with a renewed search for personnel still listed as missing in Japan—including more than 1,500 airmen.

Less than 30 graves have been discovered thus far, and Japanese report that in many cases the information is known only to local police.

The government is ordered to report the name, rank and serial number of the deceased, the date, place and cause of death, exact present location of the remains, and names and addresses of persons who know these locations.

Another headquarters order today forbade Japanese to make any additions to radio circuits or to the number of broadcasting stations, or any other changes in radio communications without prior Allied permission.

Hitler's Henchmen Enter Not Guilty Pleas and Plan To Make Fight for Lives

(From Page One)

Lawrence halted him. Then, with an angry grimace, Goering intoned:

"I declare myself in the sense of the indictment not guilty."

He waddled back to his seat.

Hess' barked "no" was officially recorded as "not guilty." The court had not yet ruled in Hess' sanity, but since he was permitted to plead it was assumed he wouuld be tried with the rest.

Reading from German records, Justice Jackson said that German General Falensttein wrote on Oct. 29, 1940, that "the fueher is at present occupied with the question of occupation of Atlantic islandsd with a view to prosecution of the war against America at a later date."

In March, 1941, Jackson said, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, issued a secret directive that "the fuehrer has ordered instigattion of Japan's active participation in the war."

Rudolf Hess, once Hitler's deputy and now fifighting to escape trial on the plea of insanity, caused a stir when he shouted "no."

Justice Lawrence said his reply would be entered as a plea of not guilty.

The court called Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, still shaky from his near-collapse yesterday.

"Not guilty," he announced.

Field Marshal William Keitel: "Not guiulty."

Nazi Philosopher Alfred Rosenberg: "I declare myself in the sense of the indictment not guilty."

When the roll of the accused Nazi leaders had been called and and all the defendants had pleaded innocence, Lord Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding justice, ruled that Ernest Kaltenbrunner, Nazi security chief, who was unable to appear because of a cranial hemorrhage, would be tried in absentia.

The court recessed for 15 minutes when the tribunal considered the contention of Adfred Thoma, counsel for Rosenberg, the official philosopher of the Nazi party, that he had been barred from consulting his client last night and consequently could not enter a plea.

Lord Justice Lawrence tightened the rules for trial procedure when he ruled inanswer to another protest that counsel cannot talk to defendants in court except by written note.

Justice Jackson, in a 20,000 word statement to the court, asserted:

"They have subjected their European neighbors to every outrage and torture, every spoliation and deprication that insolence, cruelty and greed could inflict.

"They have brought the German people to the lowest pitch of wretchedness, from which they can entertain no hope for early deliverance. They have incited domestic violence in every continent."

He said the real complaining party in the trial was civilization, which "is still a struggling and imperfect thing."

The motion challenging the validity of the proceedings asked that the tribunal "secure from internationally recognized experts on international law an opinion about the legal basis for this trial."

Intervention In Conference Is Proposed

ference affairs, but both unwilling to be quoted by name.

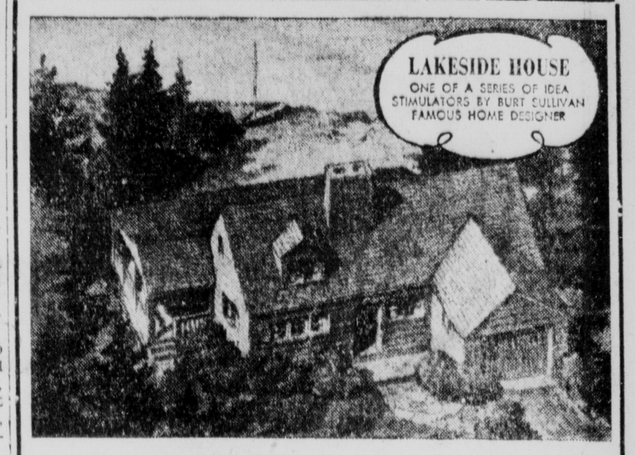

One said the suggestion already had been taken up with Mr. Truman, but neither wanted to guess whether the president might decide to step in.

One of the officials said it had been suggested that Mr. Truman ask the delegates to "come up at least with an agreement on arbitration and fact-finding."

The president's advisers were were said to be divided on the idea. Those favoring his intervention were perhaps out-numbered, it was said, by those who felt the government should let the industry and labor leaders run the conference themselves.

Mr. Truman's only comment on the parley's progress—given at his news conference—was that he hoped the meeting would yet produce a concrete formula for the settlement of labor disputes.

200,000 Auto Workers Quit In 20 States

the UAW-CIO strategy committee and announced by President R. J. Thomas in Detroit, came after two months of unsuccessful negotiations on the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage rate increase. The union had rejected three company counter-proposals while General Motors failed to reply at the designated time yesterday on the union's proposal for arbitration of the bitter wage dispute.

The transit strike in Washington by some 4,000 members of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes came after members rejected a proposal by federal conciliators that demands for increased wages be arbitrated. The union, which claims all except 400 of the company's 4,480 workers as members, had asked wage hikes of 30 cents an hour, to $1.25.

In Chicago, there was no immediate indication of a settlement of a strike of 8,700 telephone operators which union officials said kept idle an estimated 16,000 telephone workers in Illinois.

The operators quit work Monday in a wage dispute and service has been crippled in Chicago and 115 Illinois communities and in two Indiana counties. A second conciliation conference to end the walkout broke up in a deadlock.

being led back to Erie county jail.

Judge J. Orin Waite said Bromley's life sentence would run concurrently with a 12½ to 25-year term for rape and burglary of which he had served 2½ years at Western Penitentiary.

Defense counsel said it would appeal from the verdict because the court failed (1) to continue the case until the defense could call witnesses serving in the army, and (2) to allow cross examination of Bromley's brother-in-law, Frank Burdick of Corry, as to his reason for testifying. Burdick had testified Bromley confessed the slaying.

Mrs. Clinton Phanco of North East, mother of the slain sailor, collapsed during the afternoon session while Judge Waite was instructing the jury about the discovery of Wilkinson's body. She had to be escorted from the room and did not return.

SENSATION INJECTED INTO MURDER CASE

Santta Fe, N. M., Nov. 21—(AP) A state prison trusty's testimony that he had worked frequently in the apartment house where Mrs. Leon G. Kennedy, Jr., Monday was brutally slain injected a mild sensation today into Santa Fe's murder mystery.

Mrs. Kennedy, 22, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Canning, of Denver. Her husband is chief bookkeeper in a Santa Fe bank and son of the first vice president of the First National Bank of Denver.

The police acknowledged they were without clues except for a few short hairs clutched in Mrs. Kenney's hand and a vague description of a man about 36 who was seen near the apartment a few hours before the body was found.

HITLER'S HENCHMEN ENTER NOT GUILTY PLEAS AND PLAN TO MAKE FIGHT FOR LIVES

BULLETIN

Nuernberg, Nov. 21—(AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson presented the United States case against 20 fallen leaders of Germany today, accusing them of plotting war against America as early as 1940 and perpetrating a guilt of widespread atrocities against Europe. He cited Nazi records showing knowledge of a plot by the Japanese ambassador at Berlin to kill Generalissimo Stalin in 1939. Surviving leaders of Hitler's regime which set out on world conquest pleaded innocent in turn to the war crimes indictment and then sat subdued and attentive while Jackson, sometimes sarcastic and sometimes scornful, disclosed the secret evidence which the United States will present against them before the international military tribunal. He talked all day, except for the brief pleadings at the start and during a futile maneuver of defense lawyers to have the whole trial quashed. Court adjourned when Jackson finished his 20,000-word address.

By WES GALLAGHER

Nuernberg, Nov. 21—(AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief U. S. prosecutor, opening America's case against the 20 Nazi war lords facing the international war crimes tribunal, said today the Germans planned as far back as 1940 to attack the United States.

He said Nazi records also disclosed that the Japanese planned to assassinate Soviet Marshal Stalin in 1940, through the use of Russian traitors.

In rapid fire order the 20 once-powerful war lords pleaded innocent to charges of engulfing the world in a bloodbath. Jackson promised in his opening 20,000-word statement to the court that the defendants would be convicted by the Nazis' own meticulously-kept records.

The four-power international tribunal sitting in judgment adjourned the morning session at 11:25 a. m. (5:25 a. m. EST) after hearing the pleas from the Nazi defendants.

The court knocked the main defense prop from under the Nazi chieftains when it abruptly denied their claims that they could not be tried for war guilt under existing international law.

The pleas of innocence were entered in a hectic 10 minuutes with resyonses varying from the doglike bark of "no" from Rudolf Hess, Hitler's one-time deputy, to a passionate reply of "not guilty in the eyes of God" from Baldur von Schirach, Hitler youth chief.

The dramatic high point of the morning session was reached when Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, called the defendants forward one by one, warning them to plead merely innocent or guilty and to refrain from speeches which they would be permitted to make later.

Despite the warning, Hermann Goering, stripped of his medals and insignia as German Reichsmarshal, lumbered to the microphone with a prepared speech in his hand, and attempted to read it.

Two Dead in New York Crime Wave

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—A prize-fighter and a 16-year-old girl were slain today, the latest deaths in the city's mounting wave of violence and crime.

Al (Bummy) Davis, 30, former contender for the world's lightweight and welterweight boxing crowns, was shot to death outside a Brooklyn tavern after he struck one of four men who had held up the place.

The girl, identified by her father as Susan Scanga of Brooklyn, who worked in a dress shop in daytime and went to business school at night, was found dead beside an old shack at the foot of Huron street in Brooklyn. Police said she apparently had been beaten and possibly had been shot while putting up a violent fight against some one who tried to rape her. Beside her body was her school bag, containing notebooks.

A physician at Kings county hospital said Davis, whose real name was Albert Davidoff, was shot in the throat and chest.

State's New Anti-Cat Law Worries Official

Pittsburgh, Nov. 21—(AP)—City Health Superintendent Howard C. Patton is just a wee bit worried about enforcement of the state's new anti-cat law, effective Friday.

The law forbids cats in eating and drinking places, of which Pittsburgh has 2,300.

If the cats go, Patton fears, the rats will come back.

Besides, he doubts if the city has enough health inspectors to visit the eating places often enough to enforce the law equitably.

No Selection For Successor To Lawrence

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—(AP)—Pennsylvania Democratic leaders looked to State Chairman David L. Lawrence today for the next move in the search for a man to take the party's helm when Lawrence takes office as mayor of Pittsburgh in January.

Lawrence and Pennsylvania's two senators—Joseph F. Guffey and Francis Myers—have been non-commital on potential candidates for the post, Myers explaining "we intend to confer with the leaders of the party in the state before reaching a decision."

G. Harold Wagner, Democratic auditor general who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the party's nomination for governor next year, expressed the belief the mantel would fall to "someone that will be a surprise to everybody."

Asked about specific persons mentioned for the post, Wagner said State Senator Joseph Barr of Allegheny is "liked by everyone" and that he has heard the name Michael Lawler, Lackawanna county commissioner, "freely discussed."

Shawmut Co. Officers Are Held for Court

Ridgway, Nov. 21—(AP)—Two Shawmut Mining Co. officials and another employe today awaited court action on charges of forsible entry and detainer and larceny brought by Dr. Elizabeth Hayes, former company physician.

Dr. Hayes declared Shawmut General Manager Frank Lambert, Superintendent David Bell and Francis Erich entered her office in Force, removed her medicines and other property, and padlocked the door.

Judge Clark K. Dixon yesterday fixed bail at $1,000 for each man on the larceny charge. Justice of the Peace Dr. Eugene Flynn of Kersey released the men on $200 bond in the entry and detainer case.

Thomas Gragory, Shawmut attorney, said the office was needed for a new doctor and that Dr. Hayes had indicated she would not comply with a request to vacate it.

"Dr. Betty," as she is known to some 450 mine families in Force, Byrnedale and Hollywood, quit her job with Shawmut last July 16 in a protest against the sanitary conditions under which miners lived. The miners, declaring they would not work without a doctor at hand, walked out and are still on strike.

Since then, Dr. Hayes has been treating 4,000 residents of the area privately. Since she lost her

RADIO AND SCREEN HUMORIST IS DEAD

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Robert C. Benchley, 56, author, editor, actor and humorist, died early today of a cerebral hemorrhage at the Harkness Pavalion of the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

Recently he had spent much of his time in Hollywood and returned only a month ago from the coast where he made a number of motion pictures. He had been doing radio shows while here and was taken ill at his Scarsdale, N. Y., home a little more than a week ago and went to the hospital.

REP. WEISS ASKS FOR A SPECIAL ELECTION

Glassport, Nov. 21—(AP)—Rep. Samuel A. Weiss (D.-Pa.) who was elected an Allegheny county common pleas judge two weeks ago said he would call on Governor Martin in Harrisburg today to ask for a special election to choose his successor in congress.

If the governor denied the request, Weiss said he would consider remaining in congress and holding the judgeship in abeyance until Jan. 3, 1947, when his congressional term expires.

If a special election is called, Weiss said he likely would resign next Jan. 6. His term as judge normally would begin next day, Jan. 7. By law, a person cannot hold two elective offices simultaneously.

RICHARDSON'S REMOVAL IS GIVEN AIRING

PROTESTED BLOCKADE

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—Admiral J. O. Richardson today quoted the late Secretary of Navy Knox as telling him he was relieved as commander of the fleet in 1941 because he had "hurt the feelings" of President Roosevelt.

Richardson told the senate-house committee inquiring into the Pearl Harbor disaster that Knox told him in Washington March 24, 1941, after Richardson was succeeded by Admiral Husband E. Kimmel:

"The last time you were here, you hurt the president's feelings."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) asked Richardson, who said he had argued previously with the president against keeping the fleet in Pearl Harbor, if he knew how he might have hurt Mr. Roosevelt's feelings.

"It would hurt my feelings if a senior subordinate under me disagreed with me and I coudln't make him change his mind," the admiral replied firmly.

Richardson said he had complained to Knox that in all his experience he never had heard of a commanding officer being relieved "in the same manner I was."

When he asked Knox why, the admiral said the late secretary replied that "the president would send for me and talk the matter over with me."

He added, in reply to questions that the president never sent for him and he never sought to see the president.

Richardson told the investigators today that discussion of the plan to halt Japanese shipping—never carried out—had prompted him to send a message to Admiral Thomas C. Hart, then Asiatic fleet commander, containing 10 "assumptions."

He had testified yesterday the late Secretary of Navy Frank Knox told him and other officers at a conference Oct. 9, 1940 that President Roosevelt had suggested establishing a line of ships to halt Japanese shipping to the western hemisphere in the eevnt Japan moved against the British as a result of the reopening of the Burma road set for Oct. 17.

Although Richardson protested

Director of Swing Lobby Is Killed

New Castle, Nov. 21—(AP)—An auto accident while she was enroute home from a self-imposed wartime task that won her the love of thousands of young people last night killed Mrs. Herbert Dean, about 65, director of "Swing Lobby".

Mrs. Dean was returning to her home on Harlansburg road from a meeting of Mayor John F. Haven's board of directors of recreation. The recreation project, publicly financed, made possible Swing Lobby, a place for young people to enjoy themselves under supervision.

Clarence Keitzer of Slippery Rock, whose car crashed head-on with Mrs. Dean's, is being treated in Jameson Memorial Hospital for lacerations.

YMCA 'Call to Membership' Is Given Encouraging Start

If interest and enthusiasm mean anything—and they always do in any campaign—the Y.M.C.A. "Call to Membership" will surely result in the 600 members sought. The 1945 effort for new and renewal memberships was well launched last night, when sixty-eight officers and "soldiers", "Sailors" and "Waves" of the ranks, gathered in the "Y" building for the opening meeting.

The opening prayer was given by Rev. William T. Lane, who is also one of the campaigners. The "Y" President, W. Howard Alexander, serving as commander-in-chief of the "Task Forces" aiming at the 600 objective, presided and expressed the Association's appreciation of the willing spirit displayed by those in the campaign organization.

After getting their arms and ammunition, in the form of suggestions, instructions, prospect cards and workers kits, the men and women set forth to do a job, with indications pointing to a victorious finish on Nov. 28th. Between now and the 28th, there will be two report meetings, Friday night of this week and Monday night of next week, the 23rd and 26th. The point system offers a

DeGaulle Has New Coalition Cabinet

Paris, Nov. 21—(AP)—Gen. De Gaulle's chief of cabinet said today that the president had formed a coalition government giving the Communists five portfolios, including a newly-created ministry of armaments.

Gaston Palewski, who read off the list, said De Gaulle would present it to the constituent assembly Friday. This was expected to resolve the crisis which arose when the Communists, with the largest representation of any party in the assembly, demanded one of three major cabinet posts—interior, war or foreign affairs.

The new government includes four ministeries of state without portfolios. These are Socialist Vincent Auriol, M. R. P. Francisque Gay, Rightist Louis Jacquinot and Communist Maurice Thorez, secretary general of the party.

Four other Communists were named.

De Gaulle retained the presidency and with it the function of chief of the French armies as head of the national defense ministry, under which Tillon and the MRP Minister of the armies, Armand Michelet, will serve.

Eisenhower Feted At Legion Meeting

Chicago, Nov. 21 — (AP)—No other country fears a strong America, says General Dwight D. Eisenhower, and "no decent preparations of our own will be regarded suspiciously by others, because we are trusted."

"A respectably 'strong America means to others a willingness on our part to bear our full share of the burdens of preserving peace—not an intention to resort to force for our own enrichment or advantage," the newly designated army chief of staff said last night.

Speaking at the American Legion National Commander's dinner, the five star general urged that the nation maintain strong military forces, emphasized as necessary universal military training and favored unified control of the country's fighting forces.

The speech by the supreme commander of Allied forces in the European theatre climaxed a day in which he won the cheers and plaudits of thousands and high honor from the Legion, as well as the army's top command from President Truman.

Snow Flurries Are Forecast Tomorrow

Pittsburgh, Nov. 21—(AP)—Snow flurries for Thanksgiving Day in western Pennsylvania were forecast today by Weatherman W. S. Brotzman.

Railroads and airlines reported all reservations had been gobbled up days ago, and bus lines were ready for the usual heavy holiday traffic.

Churches planned special services in celebration of the first peacetime Thanksgiving in four years. Hospitalized veterans at the Deshon and Aspinwall hospitals able to enjoy turkey will get it. The USO planned to take care of veterans who may miss dinner at home.

Corry Man Faints After Conviction

Erie, Nov. 21—(AP)—Shortly after his conviction on a charge of first degree murder, Frank L. Bromley, Jr., 23, of Corry, fainted and fell down a flight of stairs at the courthouse here last night, dragging with him a deputy sheriff to whom he was handcuffed.

Bromley suffered bruises. The deputy, H. C. Tompkins, apparently was unhurt.

The jury, which found Bromley guilty of the April 3, 1942, fatal shooting of Chief Petty Officer Lloyd Wilkinson of North East, deliberated two and one-half hours. It recommended mercy, making a life sentence mandatory.

As the verdict was read, Bromley said distinctly to his counsel: "I can't believe it!"

Then he burst into tears and, throwing himself down in his chair, buried his head in his arms.

200,000 AUTO WORKERS QUIT IN 20 STATES

Walkout Is Called After Breakdown In Negotiations In Progress Two Months

By the Associated Press

The nation's largest labor union, CIO's United Auto Workers, today struck approximately 100 General Motors plans in 20 states, raising the nation's total of workers idle due to labor disputes past the 500,000 mark.

The company estimated its struck plants employ close to 200,000 production workers. The strike was called after a breakdown in negotiation which had been in progress for two months.

The union, demanding a 30 per cent wage increase, had rejected three company counter-proposals.

The Flint, Mich., plant of GM was the first individual property to report a walkout. Employes left their jobs at the Buick Motors plant in Flint 20 minutes before the strike deadline, announced unofficially yesterday as 11 a. m. (EST) today.

The General Motors strike added to the nation's already troubled labor picture. Some 300,000 workers were idle in 150 other disputes, most of them over wages.

For the second time in two weeks, a work stoppage of AFL bus and street car operators crippled transportation service in Washington, D. C. Hundreds of thousands of residents of the capital and neighboring suburbs were left without their regular means of transportation. A company official said there was a complete tieup.

Also breaking into the labor picture again was a threatened strike of Montgomery Ward & Company retail and wholesale stores in six cities. A CIO union official in Denver said the strikes will be effective Monday in stores in Denver, Chicago, St. Paul, Kansas City, Detroit and Albany, N. Y. No immediate comment was made by company officials in Chicago.

The strike call for General Motors employes held front-ranking position in the labor picture. A union spokesman said all units in the nation's largest operating corporation were struck simultaneously.

The strike call, authorized by

Walkout Called In All Ward Stores

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Samuel Wolchok, president of the United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employes of America, CIO, announced today that the union had called a nation-wide strike of Montgomery Ward and Company employes, to begin next Monday.

Wolchok said at a press conference that the action was taken because Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board of Montgomery Ward, had not replied to a union proposal sent to Avery via air mail special delivery last Friday.

The union said it had offered to drop demands for a closed shop and check off and to submit other proposals to arbitration.

Wolchok said Avery must have received the proposal on Saturday and added that if the head of the mail order company "accepts the proposal in time we are willing to call off the strike."

Santa Claus Coming in Own Plane to Take Part in Parade

Here's exciting news for the youngsters of Warren and vicinity!

Flying his own airplane Santa Claus will arrive over Warren about 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. After looking over the town for about a half hour he will land at the airport on the west side where he will be given an official welcome by Burgess R. W. Steber and W. A. Walker, publisher of the Times-Mirror, after which he will be taken in an open car and driven to the business section of the town and later to the east side where he will take his place in the mammoth Victory Loan and Christmas holiday shopping parade which will move promptly at two o'clock.

Santa Claus will be at the head of the first division of the parade and it is expected that he will have many interesting interviews during his stay in Warren.

It is understood that he will leave town soon after the parade disbands. He has sent word that he expects to arrive over Warren about 12:30 o'clock but will not land until about one.

All preparations for the parade have been completed. It is expected there will be almost a score of floats in the various divisions, the latest to enter being the Mead Machine & Iron Works. The committee announced today that floats and marching units may be entered up until Saturday morning by calling Ben Kinnear at the Kinnear store, or Eddie Sullivan at the Darling Jewelry store.

The parade is sponsored by the Retail Merchants Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce to aid the Victory Loan Drive and encourage early Christmas buying on the part of shoppers of the area.

Little in Way of a Public Observance On Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving day in Warren, the first since our armed forces have ceased participation in actual hostilities on many widespread fronts, will have little in the nature of a public observance, but will find many families reunited for the first time in several years.

Several churches have announced individual services for the morning hours, but, in general, business will be at a standstill. The various banks, post office, most retail establishments and state and federal offices will observe the customary holiday procedure. There will be neither rural nor city mail deliveries, it is stated at the post office, but the usual arrangements may be made for specials.

There will be no issue of the Times-Mirror on Thursday, and Friday editorial and advertising copy must be in promptly to insure publication in Friday's paper.

Prayers of Thanksgiving and the Holy Communion will mark observance of the Thanksgiving rite in Trinity Memorial church, the service to be at ten o'clock. Rector Beecher M. Rutledge also announces a Thanksgiving service at nine o'clock in his parish, St. Luke's, at Kinzua.

Pastor Edward K. Rogers will have a special message for the Thanksgiving worship to be held at First Lutheran church at 9:30 in the morning and the choir will have a suitable anthem.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock, the union Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Warren County Ministerial Association will be held in the First Church of the Nazarene in Pennsylvania avenue, east. All in the community are invited and urged to attend.

Gen. "Ike" Becomes General Of Army In Shift In Commands

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—The army and navy underwent a major shift in top commands today in the midst of an inter-service scrop over proposals to merge them.

President Truman announced the biggest shake-up in the defense departments since before the war, with these four changes:

1. General of the Army George C. Marshall, 64-year old army chief of staff, retires, to be succeeded by General of the army Dwight D. Eisenhower, 55.

2. Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King who will be 67 Friday, retires as chief of naval operations, and Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, 60, takes his place.

3. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, 52, who recently was acting Allied supreme commander in the Mediterranean theatre, succeeds Eisenhower as commanding general of the American forces in the European theatre, cammander-in-chief of the U. S. occupation forces in Germany, and U. S. Representative on the Allied control council of Germany.

4. Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, wartime commander of the 5th Fleet who has been described by associates as a "cold-blooded fighting fool," becomes commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet in place of Nimitz. He is 59.

Mr. Truman said Gen. Brehon Sobervell, commander of the army service forces, and General of the Army Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, had asked to be relieved, too, but he had not consented to their retirement at this time.

He said that both Marshall and King had sought retirement after Japanese surrender but that he

Susie Margaret Cartwright, daughter of John and Margaret Ellis, was born June 13, 1875, at Conneaut Lake, and died at her home November 7, 1945. When about eight years of age, her parents and family moved to Newton, where she spent the rest of her life. She was married to E. W. Cartwright October 23, 1895, the present year being their 50th wedding anniversary. One son, Ralph, was born to them in 1899 and passed away December 26, 1944.

The deceased was a patient sufferer for a number of years and was confined to her home for the past four years. She enjoyed a wide circle of friends, many of whom called on her or sent letters and cards. The floral offerings sent for her funeral were beautiful, a silent tribute of love and admiration.

Besides her husband, she leaves one grandson, Robert Cartwright, serving in the Pacific with the U. S. Navy; a daughter-in-law, Mildred, of Meadville; also two sisters, Vurnia Pieffer, of Meadville, and Lulu Williams, Garland; four brothers, Milton Ellis, Pittsfield; Walter, Roy and William Ellis, Torpedo.

Funeral services were held November 10 at the home with Rev. Slaugenhaupt officiating. Burial was made in Newton cemetery, with the following nephews as bearers: Floyd, Kenneth and Lawrence Ellis, Raymond and "Bud" Gates.

Relatives were present from Meadville, Jamestown, Youngsville, Warren, Titusville, Oil City, Pittsfield, Garland, Torpedo and Grand Valley.

SYLVESTER S. ROGERS

Sylvester S. Rogers, 73, former well known resident of Pittsfield, passed away at the Warren General Hospital Tuesday morning.

Surviving are his wife, one stepdaughter, Mrs. Roy Lightner, of Irvine; one step-son, Manning Swanson, of Pittsfield; four brothers, Homer, of Pendleton, Ore., George, of Enterprise, Ore., David, of Hadley, and Lee, of Youngsville. Also, nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Removal has been made to the home of Roy Lightner, Irvine, where services will be held at three o'clock Friday afternoon. Interment will be in the Youngsville cemetery.

URBAN B. FOX

Funeral services in memory of Urban B. Fox, of Clarendon, second victim of the explosion and fire at the Bradford-Penn plant last Thursday, were held at nine o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Clara's church in Clarendon, Father M. J. Macken celebrating the requiem mass. Bearers for interment in St. Joseph's cemetery were Herman and Clyde McCool, Harley Donaldson, Albert Anderson, George Miller, Gail Dickerson.

The rites were very largely attended. Those coming from out of town: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Huff, Mrs. George Fox, Margaret Fox, Caroline Smith, Joan and Beverly Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Johnson, all of Weedville, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fox and daughter, Limestone, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fox, St. Marys; Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Fox, Latrobe; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Seth, Sheffield; Mrs. R. J. Alvino, Bradford; Herman Seth, in the U. S. Navy; Edith Lyle, Burndale, Pa.; L. L. Atkins, Big Bend.

SISTER ROMAINE O'HERN

Word has been received here that Sister Romaine O'Hern died at Our Lady of Victory Hospital at Lackawanna on November 16. She was the daughter of the late John and Catherine O'Hern, Warren, and is survived by two brothers and three sisters: Daniel, John and Anna O'Hern, Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. Harry Nelson.

She entered the convent 48 years ago and was directress of the academy for 15 years at Mt. St. Joseph's Academy in Buffalo, since when she had served as secretary. She was a member of the board of directors of Father Baker's at Lackawanna for three years.

Funeral services will be held on Monday at the convent, with burial in the Sisters' cemetery at Buffalo.

JOHN LINDER

Sheriff L. E. Linder, 105 Monroe street, has received word of the death of his grandfather, John Linder, South street, Ridgway, which occurred yesterday afternoon following a short illness. He was aged 86 years and had been in fine health until the death of his son, Edward, on October 7, since which time he has failed rapidly.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon from his home and at 2:30 o'clock from the Swiss Reformed church in Ridgway.

RECEIVE AWARD

The Printz Company yesterday afternoon received a banner for its success in the Victory Loan drive. N. D. Paterson, A. F. Kottcamp, and Ben Kinnear made the presentation.

EDITOR INJURED

J. Harold Swanson, former managing editor of the Jamestown Post and quite well known here, was seriously injured recently in Jamestown when a bus which he had just boarded was forced to a quick stop and Swanson received head lacerations. He was taken to WCA hospital.

IS ARRESTED

William Lindstrom, Pittsfield, was arrested in Corry Tuesday on charges of driving a stolen automobile without lights and trying to evade officers when they gave chase. Lindstrom was also charged with driving without a license, but officers are investigating his being in an army uniform.

INJURED IN GYM

Two local students, Wayne Furman, Jr., of 311 Fourth avenue, and William Rohrer, 1903 Pennsylvania avenue east, fell in gym classes at school on Tuesday and were taken to Warren General Hospital for x-rays and treatment. Young Furman injured his left knee and Rohrer his right wrist, but neither had received a fracture and were discharged from the hospital.

TWO ARE CHARGED

As the result of the State Police investigation into the accident which occurred at 11:45 p. m. Monday on Route 62, near the Farm Colony, two persons face motor code violation charges. Fred Witz, 17 year old Brockway sailor, has been discharged from Warren General Hospital and was arraigned before Justice T. M. Greenlund yesterday afternoon on a charge of having no operator's license. Clarence Hyde, North Warren, still in the hospital, will be charged by the State Police with allowing an unlicensed person to operate a vehicle owned by him. Other persons injured in the two-way crash are reported by the hospital as doing satisfactorily.

REJOICING IS SOLEMN

Thanksgiving, is, by tradition, a holiday of family feasting and family reunion. As such it is the happiest of any we have known for the last four years. Soldiers and sailors by the hundreds of thousands have come home since the last Thanksgiving, men who were fighting then in Germany and the Philippines and the danger-infested skies and oceans, and wondering when and if there would be another Thanksgiving at home.

Today the reunion is a reality for them. And so in countless homes a deep, personal gratitude is added to the day's good food and good spirits. There are new, intangible trimmings for the trukey that will make this a memorable as well as a happy holiday.

Thanksgiving is also a day traditionally marked by a national counting of blessings. This year we count victory and the total is nearly complete, nor any less impressive because it is so quickly computed.

Beyond victory this day does not offer too many reasons for rejoicing. There is scant joy in many parts of the world and here at home the peace and plenty so painfully won, the well-being so earnestly desired, are surrounded by hostile forces. There is unrest and anger and confusion, and above them all hovers the invisible threat of the new and deadly atomic force which the world must live with.

So the rejoicing is solemn at best. But perhaps that is in the true spirit of Thanksgiving. The Pilgrims who first celebrated this day 324 years ago had little material cause for celebration. They, too, were surrounded by hostile forces. But the worst was behind them. They had freedom, and they had survived.

The essential qualities which have brought this country thus far are the same ones which brought the Plymouth colonists through their first winter. They are the qualities which are still needed today and which, we may hope, offer our best chance of continued survival and progress.

THANKSGIVING AND VICTORY BONDS

Commenting on Warren County's drop to 17th place in the Fort Pitt Victory Bond Area, N. D. Paterson, chairman of the War Finance Committee, says that if we are at all thankful we must reverse this trend now. "We have so much to be grateful for this Thanksgiving and a large part of our good fortune is due to the Victories of our Armed Forces. We can best show our gratitude to them and to our country by the purchase of Victory Bonds. Every Victory Bond we buy helps to feed and clothe some Warren County boy; every Victory Bond we buy helps to provide medical and hospital care for some wounded Warren boy; every Victory Bond we buy helps to bring home some Warren boy. The very Victory Bond we buy today make it possible for a Warren boy to be home by Christmas. The drive is nearly over but we have a long way to go. Let's show our Thanksgiving spirit and buy Victory Bonds now!"

HELP "SHARE-THE-FOOD"

November 29th is a day that all Warren and Jamestown residents, interested in seeing peace and a real understanding among nations, are setting aside to remember. It is a date that they are circling with red as an opportunity to give aid to those in Europe and Asia who are fighting as bitter a war as the one just won, a war against starvation.

November 29th is the day of the "Share-the-Food" suppers which the Y. W. C. A. and the Girl Scouts of Jamestown and the Girl and Boy Scouts, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of Warren are sponsoring.

The supper served here will be identical with the supper the luckier people of liberated Italy are eating: a bowl of soup, a salad, a piece of bread. When our citizens buy a reservation they will pay the price of a good old American dinner, but when they finish eating the meal served, they'll go away feeling hungry. Hungry . . . but they'll know their next meal won't be too small. They'll not know the meaning of real hunger, and they'll have the satisfaction of knowing that through this small sacrifice it will be possible for hungrier people to be at least among the luckier people.

November 22nd is the day when all Americans will give thanks for an end of pain and heartache among our fellow countrymen. The day when even the unluckier ones among us will say "Grace" before a full table.

November 29th is the day when all Warrenites will show their thanks by helping to ease the pain and heartache among our fellows of other countries. The day to "Share-the-Food".

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1925

Many Warren High School students have registered for the Times-Mirror course of journalism. Examination papers have been sent to these students, and it is possible that they will receive positions.

The cast has been announced for the play "Marchetta" to be given at the Woman's Club. Over 100 adults, and equally as many children, will appear in the several choruses.

Winthrop Williams' Buick team is leading the field in the YMCA membership campaign with five new and 63 renewed memberships. The Fords, captained by Art Kirby, are second.

The police department has removed the "Traffic Turtles" which it has had placed at intersections. The device was used to keep motorists on the right side of the road.

In 1935

Clyde Christensen, South Irvine street, and Francis DeLong, North Irvine street, have been appointed temporary clerk in the state liquor store here.

Ben Kinnear has returned from Philadelphia, where he attended the Registers and Recorders Convention. He was elected secretary of the assomiation for the coming year.

The Life Study group heard R. R. Merrill, principal of the Youngsville schools, lead a discussion on "Do Too Many Students Go to College?" Popular opinion was that there were not too many college students.

The Beckley Electric Store window is attracting much attention. A live turkey may be seen strutting in the display case. A turkey is given with each stove purchase.

TURN OFF THE BARREL

The bugle call of "tatoo" has nothing to do with the art of covering the body with figures. It is a contraction of "taps-to," a bugle call sounded as far back as the Thirty Years' War, 1618-1648, as a signal to notify the camp to turn off beer taps for the evening.

bonus for each renewal reported on Friday night.

To better acquaint the campaigners with certain phases of the "Y" program, Felix Mira gave a short talk on the Y's Men's Club, with particular reference to the opportunities this club affords to returned service men; and Don Mowell spoke briefly regarding the fun and health men are getting through the volley-ball classes.

General Alexander announced that five attractive prizes have been offered as awards for individual achievement in the campaign. The prizes and donors are a pair of shoes, by Carter & Danielson; a 5-gallon can of motor oil, by Emblem Oil Company; leather pocket-secretary, by Kinnears; a necktie, by the Style Shop; two pounds of chocolates, by Geracimos. The first two awards will be for highest scores in points for all types of memberships, while the others are offered for outstanding records in securing new members.

The dining room service for the meal was ably rendered by a group of ladies from the Nazarene church, to whom the entire organization extended their hearty thanks. The personnel of the campaign organization follows:

Decorations Given Wife of Tidioute Hero

The Silver Star and the Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster posthumously awarded Captain Ralph L. Christy, of Tidioute, have been received by his wife, Mrs. Mary F. Christy, it is announced today by Lt. Col. John S. Carlisle, of the Pittsburgh Recruiting District.

The Silver Star was awarded for gallantry in action from 23 March 1945 to 25 March 1945 in Germany, the citation reading:

"Although he had been exposed to intense enemy shelling for several days, Captain Christy voluntarily set out on a supply mission and traveled along a heavily shelled route. Due to traffic congested roads, he drove along the shoulders, fully aware of the danger from enemy land mines. However, he elected to continue his mission until his vehicle exploded a mine and he was mortally wounded. Captain Christy's gallant actions will remain a lasting inspiration to all who served with him."

The Bronze Star and Oak Leaf Cluster were awarded for meritoirous and heroic achievement from 12 January 1945 to 25 March 1945 in Belgium and Germany.

POLICE OFFICER HERO

Arthur W. Butler, a police officer of Tonowanda, was the hero of the town Saturday when it became known that he had used two ordinary wire nails and with them had removed the top of a salk shaker, swallowed by a year-old babe, Lindy Ann Tucker. He succeeded, with the help of another officer, in pulling the obstruction from the child's throat in time to save its life. The mother had rushed into the station with the babe to phone for a doctor but Butler saw the child was near death and acted immediately.

World War I tanks were called "schutzengrabenichtungs automobiles" by the Germans.

Victory Thanksgiving Day Proclamation By Gov. Martin

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—Governor Edward Martin has issued his 1945 Thanksgiving proclamation calling upon Pennsylvanians to observe Thursday, Nov. 22, appropriately in their homes and places of worship.

He also urged that the American Flag be displayed from all appropriate places on this first post-war Thanksgiving Day.

The proclamation:

"'Our Father we thank Thee.'

"These simple words will be on our lips with reverence and fervor as never before as we join this year in the traditional observance of Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 22. They will rise in a great chorus from hearts overflowing with gratitude for the countless blessings which have been bestowed upon us.

"By Divine favor we have been garnted victory over those who plotted in darkness to destroy all that we hold sacred. Through God's mercy our Nation has been guided safely through the perils of war. In lands across the sea helpless millions who lied as slaves under the cruel lash of tyranny have been liberated. With hope renewed our thoughts turn to the joyous harmonies of 'Peace on Earth' and we give thanks to God.

"In our prayers we ask that our Nation and the world be spared the agonies of conflict in the future. We pray that all the people of the earth may be drawn closer together to live in peace as brothers, according to the teachings of the Holy Bible.

"Let us be thankful that we breathe the air of freedom, secure in the heritage won for us by the faith and courage of the pioneers who push back the wilderness and founded a great Nation in the New World. Let us be thankful not only for our material progress but also for the increasing spiritual strength of our people, our churches, our schools and our homes.

"Let us reverently thank our Heavenly Father that there still burns in the hearts of American youth that flame of humanity which prompted them to offer their lives so valiantly on the altar of world freedom. May their example of self-sacrifice be an inspiration to us, the living, and may God, in His infinite love, comfort those who mourn.

"Now, therefore, I, Edward Martin, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 22, 1945, as a legal holiday and as a day of Thanksgiving in this Commonwealth. I call upon our people to observe the day in their homes and in their places of worship in humble and grateful remembrance of the blessings which the citizens of this great State are privileged to enjoy.

"Furthermore, I ask that the Flag of our country be displayed fro mall appropriate places to symbolize our patriotic loyalty and devotion to the ideals of liberty, justice, and equal opportunity which America holds forth as an example to the world."

LANDER

Lander, Nov. 19—The Lander Sunshine Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Lida Hill with seventeen members and two visitors present. Lois Lindell presided and all repeated the Lord's prayer. Several bills were ordered paid. It was voted to have the annual Christmas party and Florence Mahan, Rose Falconer and Fern Hinsdale were appointed dinner committee, and Genevieve Gruber and Geraldine Marsh were appointed entertainment committee. It was also decided to bring a gift not to exceed twenty-five cents in value for the gift exchange.

Doris Stanton, Florence Ludwick and Maude Shope were appointed nominating committee for the election of officers. Six dollars and eighty four cents was turned in from the sale of jello, eight dollars and sixty five cents from the fish pond and dues amounted to one dollar and seventy cents. The Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Fern Hinsdale.

Thirty relatives, friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gruber Saturday evening for a house warming. The evening was spent playing "500" with prizes awarded to Della Ludwick, Cecile Cowles, Fred Ludwick and Ralph Shaffer. The honor guests received many gifts for their new home and lunch was served.

Archie Hollabaugh visited his brother Floyd Hollabaugh a few days.

Farmington Grange met Thursday evening with Worthy Master Jennie Lyon in charge. Dorothy Putnam was initiated in the 3rd and 4th degree. Worthy master reported on resolutions made at the Pomona Grange held at Sugar Grove. It was announced Pomona Grange would meet in Warren in February. The next meeting will be held Nov. 29 on account of Thanksgiving falling on the regular meeting date. Lunch was served in charge of Margaret Wilcox.

Patrons of the Post Journal on the Russell-Lander-Sugar Grove road and in the village now receive the Post-Journal on the same day it is printed, deliveries being made in the village by Gayle Meley Jr.

Mrs. Albert Firth and baby daughter arrived home from the General Hospital in Jamestown Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kern, Mrs. Annie Kern of Erie, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Billquist and daughters of Jamestown spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lindell. Miss Amanda Peterson of Warren was also a guest on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cowles of Jamestown spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cowles.

Relatives here have received word from Pvt. Merle Spencer that he is in the hospital at Fort Knox, Kentucky for ear treatment.

Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Shope accompanied by Mrs. Emma Gardner of Jamestown were in Ripley Tuesday and visited the Hamilton Estate and also visited relatives in Erie.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Thompson.

FOR HOLIDAY BRIDE

This pretty bride-to-be, who has just received a diamond solitaire from her recently returned serviceman, is pleased that Christmas gifts from her friends and family are things they can both enjoy. The silver coffee pot, glass candy dish, matched bath towels and wastebasket shown are presents any young couple would be thrilled to receive.

By ROSELLEN CALLAHAN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—Brides-to-be who have found filling their hope chests an almost hopeless problem, are writing letters to Santa asking for things for their home, rather than those little luxuries which pre-war brides preferred.

Though lifting of government priorities has relieves merchandise shortages somewhat, Christmas brides will still have to do a bit of sleuthing to find just the sort of things they want for their new homes. And friends who save them some of these tedious treasure hunts by giving them a house gift will win their blessings.

Silver, of course, is the first choice on a bride's gift list. Store buyers say this year there is more sterling silver flatware in popular patterns available than at any time since the beginning of the war. However, sterling hollow ware is still quite short, because many craftsmen haven't yet returned to factories.

The bride-to-be who found it impossible to buy more than one sheet and pillow case at a time will welcome any additions you make to her hope chest. And you'll find that percale and muslin sheets are beginning to show up on shelves in greater numbers.

IRISH LINENS COMING

Long-missing Irish linens are now being shipped to this country in limited quantities, as well as small lots of English china. American mills, just getting back into production swing, say there will be no new dinnerware designs introduced for a while. But they suggest, if full sets aren't to be had in your local store, that you order a token set, and then fill in the other pieces when available.

Because there has been very little lead for manufacture of fine crystal stemware, it may be several months before full sets of these will be available. However, there is a fairly large selection of glass vases, dishes and decorative pieces which make perfect wedding presents.

MATCHED SETS

Bath accessories are another gift idea. This year you'll find a variety of matched sets of Turkish towels and face cloths with huge flower appliques or monograms. Other excellent gift ideas which are available in quantities are matching sets of hamper and wastebasket, tissue box and make-up box, and painted glass containers for astringent, cologne and liquid cream.

Twin lamps, candy dishes, cigarette boxes with companion ash trays, bookends that hold vines or flowers, demi-tasse cups which can double as knick-knacks when shown off on little stands, and coffee and end tables are just a few other suggestions which would make the Christmas bride beam.

GARLAND

Gertie Black has returned to her Garland home and is convalescing following a surgical operation in the Allegheny hospital at Warren.

The passing of Wilson McGrew calls to mind one of the outstanding citizens of Fittsfield Township. Mr. McGrew came from a prominent Pittsburgh family and for many years he did extensive lumbering in this vicinity. He was also active in politics, served for several years on the school board and always willing to help where it was needed. The older residents remember his great love of the out of doors. where he took long walks with his valuable bird dogs at his heels.

Sympathy is extended the family of Ransom McKelvey of Spring Creek. The deceased was well known in Garland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Irwin Sr. accompanied by their housekeeper Anne Marks have gone to Florida for the winter.

Miss Marian Holmes has gone to Wellsville, N. Y., for a vist with friends.

Norman Taylor was in Jamestown on business on Tuesday.

Mrs. Seth Holmes was in Chandlers Valley on Friday where she visited Evelyn Ransom. Mrs. Ransom was a former Garland resident. Her daughters Lucille and Virginia are attending Edinboro Teachers College and the mother teaches in the Valley.

Fay Fresles had a telephone installed on Tuesday.

Rev. Chitester entertained by presenting pictures in the community building on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Holmes had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walkes of California. Mrs. Walker has been in Maine where she met her huhband whi is in the service. They were accompanied by Samuel Cloessener who was on his way to Louisiana.

Sympathq is extended the family of Albert Meleen of Youngsville. Mrs Meleen was formerly employed in the Garland factory where he made many friends among fellow workers.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ingram and Joanne Kane of Erie were recent guests at the Kane home here.

Sympathy is extended the family of Mrs. Ernest Cartwright who passed away recently at Newton. She was a sister of Mrs. Ed Williams of this place. Mrs. Cartwright was a patient invalid for many years.

As many families are reunited, loved ones home from the wars, and countless others are still offering prayers for the safe return of those yet on far-off occupation fronts, it is apropos to consider that the reasons for the giving of thanks tomorrow, our 1945 Thanksgiving Day, have really changed but little since Governor William Bradford issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation in 1623:

To all the Pilgrims: Inasmuch as the Great Father has given us this year an abundant harvest of Indian corn, wheat, peas, beans, squashes and garden vetgetables, and has made the forests to abound with game and the seas with fish and clams, and inasmuch as He has protected us from the ravages of the savages, has spared us from pestilence and disease, has granted us freedom to worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience; now I, your magistrate, do proclaim that all the Pilgrims, with your wives and the little ones, do gather at the meeting house, on the hill, between the hours of 9 and 12 in the day of time, on Thursday, November the 29th, of the year of our Lord one thousand six hundred and twenty-three, and the third year since the Pilgrims landed on the Plymouth Rock, there to listen to the pastor and render thanksgiving to the Almighty God for all His blessings.

YW Board Members Hear Encouraging Reports and Plan for Many Activities

The November meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors was opened with devotions by Mrs. D. W. Crossett and held Monday night in the activities building. Miss Jennie Ryan, secretary, read the minutes and the correspondence was read by Mrs. Grover Lind, correspondence secretary. Mrs. U. S. Rogers gave the treasurer's report for the month of October.

The report of Miss Mary Church, general secretary, revealed that 2770 people were present at events in the activities building in October. She told of preliminary plans for Monday, December 10th when the annual Hanging of the Greens will take place. Another square dance has been scheduled for the same evening at 8:30, so a full evening is in store for Y. W. C. A. members and friends.

Barbara Lesser's Girl Reserve report told of the numerous activities of High School Girls' Club, ring committee, Freshman Girls' Club, Beaty Girl Reserves and North Warren Clubs as well as what the Girl Reserve committee has been doing this fall.

Mrs. Jesse Smith reported for the residence and cafeteria and Miss Rowena Sammel for Ali-We-Je Club. Mrs. J. P. Rogers presented names for membership and a total of 459 renewals or new members in the membership campaign was announced. The committee was not able to contact everyone and those who have not been reached personally are requested to take care of their renewals by mail or in person at the Y. W. C. A. office.

Mrs. D. W. Crossett gave the report of the world fellowship committee and expressed the hope that Warren would do better than it did last year in giving to the world work of the Y. W. C. A. To do so means more contributions to the World Fellowship Fund.

Miss Church presented a questionnaire which was answered by board members as to their likes and dislikes of the Woman's Press, the national Y. W. C. A. monthly magazine.

The board voted permission to the cafeteria to close between Christmas and New Year's and it will do so after the evening meal, December 22nd and not reopen until Wednesday, January 2nd.

Mrs. Carl Lundahl appointed a nominating committee to present names of six board members at the annual meeting in January. Chairman of this committee is Mrs. Jesse Smith, and members are Miss Jennie Ryan, Miss Bertha Fraring, Mrs. Doris Tillard and Mrs. Elaine Thomas.

The responsibility of the annual meeting was assigned to the membership committee of 18 headed by Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Robert Trusler. The date of the annual meeting is the third Monday in January, that is January 21st, and will feature Miss Mary Dingman, well known speaker on public affairs.

Margaret Gesin Is Bride on Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Gladen Gesin, of Tidioute, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Roy T. Nicholson, son of Mrs. Clara Nicholson, of Tidioute.

The double ring service was used for the ceremony, performed by the Rev. Stevenson, Tidioute, on Saturday afternoon, November 17. Miss Mary Benner, of Tidioute, was maid of honor, and James Nicholson was his brother's best man.

After the ceremony, refreshments were served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Nicholson is employed at Warren General Hospital, and Mr. Nicholson has recently been honorably discharged after three and one-half years of service in the army air service.

Present Students In Pleasing Recital

Pupils from Mrs. Louise Bailey's piano studio were heard in a delightful recital at the First Methodist church in Clarendon on Monday evening, November 19.

The first number on the program was a duet, the Blue Danube Waltzes by Strauss, played by two advance students, Ethel Miller and Janice Dibble.

The others followed in order as to their age and ability, from tiny tots, making their first public appearance, to advanced students, playing the modern classics in a very professional manner. Each number was played from memory, proving their ability and that of their teacher.

What Endocreme can do to bless you with a younger looking face

Think of the added beauty a more youthful face and throat can give! Then harken to this: Scientific research has proved that ENDOCREME can, for most women, contribute to this desirable result in a way formerly thought impossible. Many thousands are now finding that ENDOCREME actually helps to improve the skin itself, not just its transient, superficial "look." This is because ENDOCREME, alone, possesses ACTIVOL. This ACTIVOL is a scientific replacement for woman's own natural skin-vitalizing substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps to restore the normal growth of cells and tissues. It thus aids the skin to become fresher, smoother, more alluringly "alive." What bigger value can any woman young or old ask for her cosmetic dollars? The great majority get big improvement in only 30 days.

An Open Letter

Dear Santa Claus:

Somehow, the idea is becoming more and more prevalent that only the littlest tots should write you about what they hope to find under their trees on Christmas morning. I sincerely hope you can and will refute this rumor, but just in case my family and friends already believe it, I would like to make you a proposition. A couple of hasty trips up town have revealed a lot of things I'd like for my shopping list and if you could arrange to have them delivered to me beforehand, I could save you a great deal of bother by seeing that they get to the right Christmas trees.

Since the children come first on that day, I'll mention some of the nice stuffed animals, toys both educational and entertaining, a pair of those fuzzy bunny slippers for a little boy, a long wooden train and a Piper Cub plane, along with some warm mittens and a few pretty things for a new baby. An older boy would like articles from any of the student shops (just smaller editions of Dad's, really), so please send some wool and monogrammed scarfs, a couple of billfolds, a Zippo lighter, pen and pencil set, some new best-sellers from the book department, several pairs of sheepskin and leather slippers, pj's and shirts, a wool flannel robe. A younger sister would like a swingy skirt and gay sweaters, with matching mittens, scarfs and beanies, a better dress for Sunday wear, a charm bracelet and her first compact. Mother would like something nice in furs, cologne and bath salts, nail polish for her spare moments, a blouse and frilly negligee, handbag and rich fabric slippers, a slip and nightie with real lace, jewelry for a lasting remembrance. I think she'd like some new doo-dads about the house, too, or maybe a piece of furniture to replace what the kids have worn out. I nearly forgot to say that Dad also wants one of those tool boxes complete with gadgets, and Big Brother wants some additions to his swing collection. Oh, yes, you can just skip the wearables and smellables and bring me the largest Victory Bond you can spare!

Plans Complete For Saturday's Youth Activities

The Community Recreation Committee has completed its arrangements for a holiday community young people's party on Saturday night, November 24th. Barbara Benson and Bill Erickson will be co-chairmen again and will be assisted by a competent group of young committee heads.

The Men About Town Orchestra has been secured for the dance music and floor show. John Knapp will be at the piano; Don Brown at the drums; Bill Dobbs, first sax; Bob Bobbs, second sax; and Joe Fuellhart, third sax; Mac McCarthy, first trumpet; John Robertson, second trumpet; Bill Taylor, third trumpet; Bill Erickson, Trombone; and Nick Geracimos, bass.

Both the setup and decorating committee are asked to be at Beaty School Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Lee Ellis is heading the setup committee while Betty Lou Hook and Pat Wade are co-chairmen of decorating.

Teresa Fina and Frank Felisi, co-chairmen of the floor show committee, have announced a rehearsal at Beaty School for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Bill Carter is handling the P. A. system for the floor show; and Algot Eckstrom, the lights.

New heads of the refreshments committee are Eveline Peterson, Joan Kammerer and Jean Crossett. Susie Lesser is taking care of the checkroom. Marjorie and Mary Gnagey are co-chairmen of the game rooms.

Charles Cochener heads the door committee; Bud Marrer, reservations; Doris Evan, signs; and Dave Leidig and Pat Johnson, cleanup.

Dave Brown is heading a group of good acts as master of ceremonies for the floor show, which goes on at 10 o'clock.

The doors open at 8 o'clock and close at 11:15. This week's party covers the group from the Beaty Freshmen through the early twenties as usual there will be no admission fee to this community party planned by the Committee on Community Recreation and sponsored by the Community Council P. T. A.

Betty Lou Hook and Bill Blair, co-chairmen for December have already started their plans for next month's parties. The dates are December 8th and the 22nd.

Cootiettes Install At Local Meeting

Members of Cootiette Club No. 102 held their regular meeting in the local VFW Auxiliary rooms on Sunday, the chief grayback, Mrs. Gertrude Fitch, opening the meeting at two o'clock.

The installation of officers took place and the following were inducted: Chief grayback, Mrs. Hazel Shuss; lady louse, Mrs. Zella Wood; baby louse, Mrs. Pearl Porter; shackle keeper, Mrs. Jean Field; scratcher, Mrs. Frances Wood; pious louse, Mrs. Clara Haight; crummy chaser, Mrs. Della Mason; rustling louse, Mrs. Katherine Waff; ink-slinging louses, Mrs. Ida Benson and Mrs. Gertrude Fitch; and assistant louse hunter, Mrs. Grave Blymiller. Mrs. Estella Reynolds, past chief grayback, was the installing officer, and Mrs. Florence Army, past state crummy chaser, was the conductress. Mrs. Fitch was sented the past chief grayback pin.

At the business session plans were completed for the annual Christmas party for the veterans at the Warren State Hospital which will be held December 22nd.

A delicious turkey dinner was served to 100 guests by the members of the Warren club, and the next meeting will be held in Corry December 11th at the V. F. W.

Newton and Flood Rites Announced

A lovely candlelight wedding was solemnized at 7:00 p. m. Saturday, November 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Flood, Parker street, when their daughter, Ethel Mae, was united in marriage with William L. Newton, of Knox, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Newton, North Warren.

The single ring ceremony was read by Rev. Gordon V. Woods before a bank of pink and white chrysanthemums and in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride was lovely in a two piece wool dress of gray and white, with black and gray accessories and a shoulder corsage of white rosebuds. She was attended by her sister, Laura, who wore yellow wool with brown accessories and corsage of red rosebuds. The best man was James J. Newton, brother of the bridegroom.

After the reception, held immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for their newly furnished apartment in Knox. The bride is a graduate of the local high school in the class of 1942 and has been employed in the Direct Shop of the New Process Company. The bridegroom, formerly a staff sergeant in the U. S. Army, was recently discharged after six and one-half years of service.

Pre-nuptial parties for the bride included a dinner given at Geracimos' by fellow-employes of the New Process Company; also showers by her mother and sisters, Miss Lorraine Donze, and Mrs. Frank T. Flood, Jr..

William S. Saunders, who received an honorable discharge from the army at Indiantown Gap on November 15 after 30 months overseas and three years in service, was guest of honor for a welcoming home party given Saturday evening by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Saunders, Sugar Grove. The time was spent with visiting and playing "cootie", Mrs. Harry Johnson receiving a prize for high and Mrs. Emma Nuttall, the consolation award.

Concluding the evening, refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Harry Johnson, Mrs. Lucille Irvine, Mrs. Fred Pilling and Miss Betty Saunders. There were about 40 guests present, including Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Watson and daughter, Patty, Jamestown, N. Y.; Milton Pilling, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. A. B. Bradley, Mrs. Maude Winger, Mrs. Harry Johnson, Samuel Lannen and daughter, Sally, Warren.

REV. BERLIN WILL BE AT WRIGHTSVILLE

Rev. K. A. Berlin, of the Sugar Grove and Scandia Mission churches, has been engaged by the congregation of the Wrightsville community church to serve it regularly, on the second Sunday evening of each month. All who have heard Rev. Berlin in this church during the past few months are impressed with his sincerity in offering assistance and guidance by preaching the gospel in the community.

A Thanksgiving service will be held on Friday evening, November 23, when Rev. Berlin will again speak. All are invited to attend this service, which will begin promptly at eight o'clock.

NURSES TO MEET AT MEADVILLE HOSPITAL

The board of directors will luncheon in the Lafayette Hotel. assemble at 10 a. m., followed by Sectional sessions are scheduled for one o'clock. A large attendance is asked, since the new district by-laws will be read in their entirety at the general session and convention reports will be given by delegates.

GROSSMAN-JANES MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Thomas Janes announces the marriage of her daughter, Estella Nora, to Flight Officer Ralph Grossman, son of Mrs. Pearl Grossman, of Scarsdale, N. Y.

The ceremony was performed at Alamogordo, N. M., at 4:30 p. m. Monday, November 5, Father Supple officiating in the base chapel. Attendants were Sgt. and Mrs. William Grilli. Mrs. Grossman enlisted in the Women's Army Corps on July 28, 1944.

FAMED SYMPHONY TO BE IN BRADFORD

It will interest music lovers of this section to learn that the Kryl Women's Symphony Orchestra of Chicago will be in Bradford on the evening of November 26 to play a concert in the senior high school. The organization is an outstanding one in symphony circles and it is likely a number from Warren will be in the audience on Monday night.

IRVINEDALE UNIT HAS FINE PROGRAM

Mrs. Samuel Lannen conducted the regular meeting of Irvinedale PTA Tuesday evening. The opening exercises were followed by routine business, with Mrs. Frank Smith reading the report of the secretary and Mrs. John Daley that of the treasurer. Mrs. Smith announced a rummage sale to be held in the Beckley building in town on November 29-30, December 1. The unit agreed to sponsor a poster contest, with prizes, winners to be entered later in the county contest.

An interesting program included two vocal solos by Joann Yagge, accompanied by Ruth Eaton, and a fine talk on the history of education in Warren county, given by H. L. Blair, county superintendent. He centered his remarks around the 14 men who have served as county superintendent, showing the progress in education promoted by each. He concluded with a history of Glade township schools, from the first to the present consolidated building. Refreshments were served by teachers and Mrs. Leslie Hanna.

JOHNSON UNIT

Mrs. Robert Shorman conducted devotions for the November meeting of Johnson PTA held at the school on Monday evening. Twenty Brownies were moved up to the new Girl Scout Troop 61 and were given their pins and H. C. Putnam gave a fine talk linking the history of the Allegheny river with the early days of Warren. To conclude, sixth grade mothers served refreshments under Mrs. D. E. Conaway's direction. Mrs. Schorman presided at the table prettily centered with a white pottery cornucopia filled with fruit.

FOR HER

Newest fur fashion is this natural mink cape jacket, designed by Dein Bacher of the Waldoff. It features fitted border front, peplum pockets.

EARNED HER NAME

So well did the USS Constitution, with a detachment of 47 Marines, withstand the shots of the British ship Guerriere that she became known as "Old Ironsides."

FRANK HODAS HOME FROM ARMY

Pfc. Frank Hodas, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Corbran, 1000 West Fifth avenue, has been honorably discharged from military service at Indiantown Gap separation center and has returned to his former employment at Struthers-Wells. He entered service in July, 1943, and went overseas in January, 1944, serving with an ordnance section of the Fifth Army in North Africa and Italy. Two battle stars decorate his theatre ribbon.

FROM CBI THEATRE

Lt. Louis A. Eckland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eckland, 201 Dartmouth street, has left for Greensboro, N. C., for reassignment, after a 45-day leave at home. He recently returned from overseas, serving one year in the China, India, Burma theatre.

NEIL CULBERTSON IS BACK IN STATES

Mrs. Jessie Culbertson, 315 Poplar street, has received word that her son, Neil, chief ship fitter in the Seabees, has arrived in Seattle, Washington, from Leyte, and will be in Bainbridge, Md., within the next two weeks. Chief Culbertson served in the Solomons and the Philippines and was awarded two bronze stars. C. B. 568, with which he first served, was attached to a number of marine outfits, and was awarded the Seventh Fleet Admiral's citation. The maintenance of assault and landing craft, together with beach and dock operations, comprised the major part of the unit's assignment.

GRAHAM BOYS EXPECTED

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Graham, 700 East street, had a pleasant surprise Tuesday when they received a telephone call from Boston from their son, Corp. Paul Graham. He just returned from overseas, having served 2½ years in the European theatre. His family hope to see him this week.

Another son, Clifford, radioman 1/c, called from San Francisco last Saturday. He has been in the Pacific theatre, and expects to be home the first of the year.

Tips For Teen-Age Gifts

By NEA Service

If it's new, different and wearable, it's perfect for the teen-ager's Christmas. You won't go wrong if you buy her something that covers her head, like the gray wool jersey hood with matching gaiters, or something that cinches her waist, like the red felt belt with fringed pouch attached—illustrated on the teen-age skater in the center. Other sure-fire successes, top to bottom at left, are costume or real jewcled lockets which can be worn on a velvet ribbon; a flashing corduroy beret with matching gloves in pastel or brilliant colors; and knitted ballet tights and jumper tops for lounging or wear with a wrap-around skirt. Striped ballet slippers, upper right, are perfect teammates for the tights ensemble, or to wear after skiing. Also for skiing there are a number of new giddy sweaters sporting huge peacocks and reindeer. And at long last, high-styled skating costumes again are being manufactured.

Supervisors And Auditors Hold Meeting

The Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, conducted the devotional exercises with which supervisors and auditors of the county opened their annual convention at the court house this morning.

Judge Allison D. Wade gave the address of welcome to the visitors from the county and further addresses of the morning session were delivered by O. C. Tritt, county farm agent; Dr. L. E. Chapman, state senator; H. A. Thompson, secretary of the state association of township supervisors.

Following the luncheon adjournment, the session reconvened at 1:30 p. m., with roll call, election of officers, report of the resolutions committee and other business. Talks at this session were given by Harry O. Wheelock, of Franklin, who is district township engineer and former Warren resident; Warren Lowe, county superintendent of highways and Mr. Thompson, the state secretary.

One of the most interesting figures at the convention was William Trushel, 81 years of age, who has been a supervisor in Mead township for about 53 years. Mr. Trushel, who lives in the third district of Mead township, was elected "pathfinder" in 1892, served three six-year terms as supervisor, was later appointed to fill a vacancy and elected for three different terms. Last year he was not a candidate, feeling that he had served his community long enough.

CHURCH REVIVALS

AT UNITED BRETHREN

All are invited to hear the Nelsons at their first sérvice in the First United Brethren church this evening, and are reminded "there's always something special when the Nelsons are here." Mr. Nelson is an able, dynamic preacher; also a baritone soloist with deep, rich voice, and an enthusiastic song leader. He and his wife are accomplished musicians, their solos, duets and special numbers on the piano, solovox, guitar and tiple are always important features of the meetings.

Personal Paragraphs

R. G. Anderson, of Tulsa, Okla., who has been attending the American Petroleum Institute in Chicago, is spending the weekend visiting his parents Mr .and Mrs. E..G Anderson, and his brother, M. E. Anderson. He had expected to have with him his son, Ensign Robert G. Anderson, assigned to the battleship USS Washington, now stationed at Philadelphia, but an unexpected sea assignment prevented his coming.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bartz, of Rochester, Pa., are here to spend Thanksgiving and the weekend with the latter's mother, Mrs. Sadie Lucie, 729 Market street.

Plan to Repeat Children's Radio Drama Production

A repeat performance of Alice in Wonderland will be given by popular request Sunday afternoon on the Metzger-Wright Company radio drama series program. Because of certain technical dufficulties at station WJTN last Sunday, it was necessary to present the play at 3 o'clock instead of the usual hour. As a result many interested listeners failed to hear the production, which had been anticipated by children and adults.

Because of the number of requests for a re-broadcast, arrangements were completed this morning with WJTN to have a second performance on Sunday, November 25th. The re-broadcast will be made through the courtesy of station WJTN.

All boys and children in the cast are asked to be at the public library on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The final rehearsal for the second performance will be held on Saturday afternoon after the Christmas parade.

Listeners who heard the presentation of the children's classic on Sunday were delighted with the performance. There were also many coments in Jamestown about the work of the boys and girls, particularly that of nine-year old Sally Nelson, who portrayed Alice.

Metzger Store Doing Well In Victory Loan

With the Victory Bond Drive but a little more than half over, the Metzger-Wright Company has achieved a little over two thirds of its quota of $60,000 with a total to date of $40,750. The entire personnel is divided into three teams, the red, captained by Miss Margaret Nesmith; the Blue with Mrs. Loraine Lane as its captain and the white which has as its captain Mrs. Mary Jane Olander. From day to day, in fact almost from hour to hour the standings of these teams change, at first the Red Team was far in the lead but at present the Blue team leads all with a total of $18,706.25 against the Red's $11,793.75 and the White's $7,775.00

In the individual standings of the coworkers, Nina Sitler leads with a total of $15,075, with Ruth Woodin second with $5,837.00 and Janet Erickson with $5,168.75. The highest in dollars in the number of E Bonds sold is Victoria Staaf first with Helen Brockway and Mary Eckardt tied for second place and Theresa Smith in third. In the highest number of E bonds sold Mary Eckardt is first with 11 bonds, Harriet Chatley second with 8 and Mildred Carter third with 7. Much friendly rivalry is taking place for one of the three prizes which is to be awarded in these divisions.

A United States Treasury Department Victory Award will go to each of the coworkers selling $300 or more during the Victory Loan drive, given "For outstanding wartime service—for seeing the fight through to the finish in supporting the Victory Loan" which is signed by Fred M. Vinson, Secretary of the Treasury.

The Metzger-Wright Company urges everyone to buy Victory Bonds and if they are not already obligated to buy them from their favorite salesperson at the store.

United War Fund Achieves Its Goal

General Chairman Edward W. Johnson reports that the Warren County United War Fund Campaign has finally achieved a total of $88,706.00, which is in excess of the 1945 goal. This sum includes surplus funds in the treasury which accumulated from oversubscriptions in the 1943 and 1944 campaigns.

The National and Local Participating Agencies will therefore receive their full allotments as the payments fall due.

Gershwin Bros. Music and Lyrics Will Be Heard Again

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 21—(AP)—"Music and lyrics by George and Ira Gershwin"—those magic words will appear again on a new motion picture.

Ira Gershwin is completing the lyrics for "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," a score he has written in collaboration with unpublished works by his brother George. At his home, Ira told me how it happened.

"When George died in 1938," he said, "Kay Swift, who had worked with him, and I went over all of his notes. We were able to collect at least 37 tunes. We put them away, together with a dozen songs my brother and I had written but never used."

This year 20th-Fox producer William Perlberg asked Ira to do a score for the "Pilgrim." They hunted for a composer, but all seemed to be busy or unacceptable. One day Ira again met Miss Swift and he hastened to Perlberg with the suggestion: "How would you like me to write the score with George?"

I asked to hear the songs and Ira consented, allowing that it was the first time he had ever auditioned for the Associated Press. Miss Swift played the piano and the lyricist sang for the first public performance of the new Gershwin tunes.

It was a rare experience to hear the songs of a genius whose work was believed to be concluded. All of the 10 tunes are unmistakably Gershwin and at least one, "For You, For Me, Forever," should be as big as any of his hits.

Gwendolyn Stone is a girl who won't let a handicap keep her from a career in the movies. The 22-year-old Santa Monica girl became deaf and dumb after an attack of measles at the age of three. She learned to read lips and graduated from Santa Monica high school with honors.

She took dance lessons for five years and was good enough to appear in many USO shows. Then she got a job dancing in "Night and Day."

Gwendolyn watched the dance coach and the other dancers to get the pattern of the routine and then listened to the music with a hearing aid. During the shooting of the numbers she picked up the rhythm and vibrations with her hands and feet. Those who watched her at Warner Brothers predict a great future.

Fred Astaire Insists He Has Appeared In His Last Dance

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 21—There wasn't much to talk to Fred Astaire about. It had been well publicized that he was tired and was going to retire, perhaps returning later to produce pictures, so ostly I just watched while he performed his last dance routine in motion pictures.

He was dressed as most people remember him—the dapper top hat, striped trousers and tails, spats and cane. His ely grin occasionally crept over his face, but he was drim and intent, as he laways is when thinking out a routine. He tapped the floor nervously while waiting for the camera to get ready.

"People can't seem to believe I'm really retiring," he told me. "They think I must be kidding." I asked if he would ever dance for his own pleasure during his retirement.

"Naw," he said. "The only time I really feel like dancing is when I hear some really hot swing music."

The camera was ready and he began his "putting on the ritz" number for "Blue Skies." It was a hot, fast routine with all the charm and grace and imagination that made him the best known dancer of the century.

The number was a trick shot involving mirrors and split sets and it took many takes before he finished it. At 5:30 Astaire, sweating and weary, walked back to his dressing room for the last time. He said to me: "Forty-one years of this. Do you wonder that I'm quitting?"

Red Skelton received a wild ovation when he returned to the MGM lot. He'll begin "The Show-off" within a month . . . David Niven is expected to return around Christmas to begin "The Bishop's Wife" for Goldwyn. His wife, son and new baby will remain in England for a while . . . Robert Mitchum ain't kidding about the title of his current picture, "The Dream of Home." He may have to pitch a pup tent in a vacant lot . . . Eddie Heywood is cutting an album for Decca. . . . The Hollywood canteen will close Thanksgiving Day with probably the biggest show in this town's history. The canteen's half million dollar surplus has been transferred to a foundation board of trustees, including Bette Davis, who will decide what to do with it.

Restaurant Licenses Are Being Mailed

The first 1500 restaurant licenses to be issued by the State Health Department under the new legislation regulating the conduct and operation of public eating and drinking places within the Commonwealth have been mailed from Harrisburg.

The Restaurant Sanitation Law was passed by the 1945 Session of the Legislature and became effective when it was signed by Governor Martin on May 23, 1945. The licensing sectionof the Act that, ". . . From and after a period of six months after the effective date of this act, it shall be unlawful for any proprietor to conduct or operate a public eating or drinking place without first obtaining a license, as herein provided . . . ."

Dr. Harry W. Weest, secretary of health said that in all probability it would be impossible to mail all of the licenses before November 23, 1945, the effective date of the Act. "Proprietors of public eating and drinking places who have not received licenses by November 23 may continue to operate their restaurants if their establishments have been inspected and approved by a State Sanitarian," Dr. Weest stated. "Their licenses will be mailed in the immediate future."

Korea's Peculiar Customs Are Intriguing to a Visitor

By HAL BOYLE

South Korea, Nov. 21—(AP)—In the "land of the morning calm" you have to stay up all night on New Year's eve or your eyebrows will turn gray. That, at least, is one of many popular beliefs.

Korea, waiting impatiently to essay modern statehood whenever the Russian and American troops depart, still leans heavily on her Antiquity.

During 40 years of Japanese occupation and industrialization, the country has been westernized to a degree, but education has been limited to a small segment of the population. In the rural areas literally millions of illiterates still adhere to the old customs, fables and foibles.

The women of each household have an inner "hen room" which no male is allowed to enter.

The luckiest day of the year is July 7, because it is the seventh day of the seventh month.

Girls pray to the stars Altair and Vega to improve their sewing skill so they will not lose their husbands.

Koreans have an easy way of disposing of unwelcome callers: Whether you have a servant or not, the visitor arriving at your door must stand outside and bellow, "tell the master that so-and-so is calling."

If you don't like the guy or he bores you, just raise your voice as if addressing your imaginary servant and bellow back, "tell him the master is not in."

The visitor gets the idea and scrams.

Another visiting custom is that no gentleman steps inside the house to visit your wife unless you, master of the house, are there to keep an eye on him.

Also, when someone calls on you the first time he is required by custom to start right off by telling his full name, age, occupation and style of living. Then you know whether to give him the brush-off or break out your bottle. Usually, however, in contrast with the Japanese system of dishing out tea to all comers, the Korean offers visitors tobacco.

Boys don't marry at the age of 11 or 12 very much any more, nor girls at 14 or 15, as once was the practice.

Many a bridegroom, however, still swears his wedding oath at the bride's home in front of a wooden carving of a wild goose, brought by himself. Then the bride goes to his house on a palanquin, serves wine to his parents, and worships before the ancestral tablets.

The bridegroom takes her back to her house and spends three days there before bringing her to his old man's house, where they finally set up housekeeping. Dutiful brides then do all of the mother-in-law's housework.

When someone dies, an announcer climbs to the roof of the house and waves the clothes of the departed to make public his passing. Women mourners are hired for the funeral. No cats are allowed in the room where the body is kept.

The funeral services are elaborate and expensive. The pallbearers are paid to cry out their woe as they carry the coffin to the grave.

Many villagers believe a spirit they call Chansun has the power to drive away demons. They set up wooden images along the roadside to tickle Chansun's vanity and to persuade him to drive all evil spirits into the next township, which in turn has put up some images of its own.

On the sportive side of life, chess, archery and wrestling all are popular, but the grunt and groan industry's boys don't make the sort of dough they do in America.

SCIENTIFIC PITCHING

Baseball pitchers employ the "Magnus principle" every time they throw a curve. This scientific law was discovered by Gustav Mangus in 1852. It is to the effect that "a rotating sphere in the wind receives a pressure that shoves it sideways as well as in the direction of the wind."

Leading anthropologists regard Eskimos as merely one kind of North American Indian, both in blood and language.

Itchy Pimples Kill Romance

Dangerous Years

By MULLEN DRUG CO.

When your child is between the ages of two and ten, he is in that period of life when diphtheria—the killer—is most likely to strike.

Between two and three this scourge is most likely to kill; it strikes most often at the ages of five and six.

But immunization against this malady can safely see a child through the dangerous years. See that your child is protected against this killer of the young—and do not wait until he is ready for school. Those of preschool age should be protected; your family physician will do the immunization and by infallible tests will assure safety.

The pure, tested serums your doctor uses are provided by the properly stocked and equipped pharmacy.

Eagles Hear Fine Address By Sundberg

To maintain permanent peace the nations of the world must adopt the ideals of the Fraternal Order of Eagles—liberty, truth, justice and equality—C. A. (Sunny) Sundberg, national Eagle speaker and philosopher told members of Conewango Aerie in an address last night at the Eagles' clubhouse.

The smiling, dynamic guest of the Warren Eagles, interspersing his talk with anecdotes and humor, defined the Eagle spirit as the "right attitude toward God and man."

Sundberg, who is on a tour of Pennsylvania Aeries, paid tribute to the humaritarian spirit of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, which has a membership climbing toward the million mark, the largest of any benefit paying fraternal organization in America.

Sundberg pointed out that "Eagle eyes" see a vital need for proper youth guidance, aid to returning servicemen, extension of social security and stimulation of postwar employment. The national organization has launched programs to attain these objectives. In the past "Eagle eyes" were directed at workmen's compensation laws, mothers' pensions, old age pensions and social security, measures which the organization sponsored and worked for until they were enacted into law. Sundberg said.

The speaker said the purpose of "Eagle claws" was "to lift and help wherever possible, to hold as lang as we can, and to fight when necessary." He added "Eagle wings" were directed at "moving onward, upward and God-ward."

"The F. O. E. means finest on earth as well as the Fraternal Order of Eagles," Sundberg said. "The finest things on earth are human beings, fraternity and our nation."

Sundberg told his listeners to talk about the "Three Ours—ourselves, our fraternity, and our country."

NEW WEIGHT, SIZE REGULATIONS FOR OVERSEAS MAILING

James K. Bell, local postmaster, has announced the new weight and size limits for parcels to Army personnel overseas as follows: parcels not exceeding 11 pounds in weight or 42 inches in length or 72 inches in length and girth combined, containing articles requested by the addressee, may be accepted for mailing to Army personnel overseas."

Mr. Bell further stated his department has not received any official notification of any change in the weight and size of parcels for Navy Personnel.

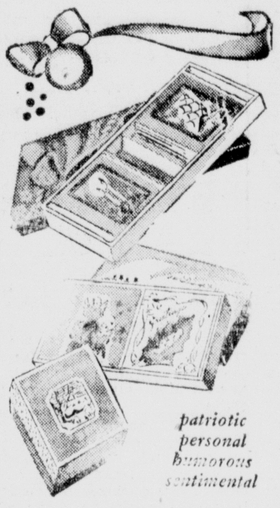

THE STATE POLICE SAY:

Accident reports show that the jority of fatal and non-fatal idents occur on the straight-ay. Such movements as turning, king and parking require care and precision if you wish to keep fenders from being smashed, but if you wish to keep the human body from being smashed equal care should be used while traveling straight ahead. Remember, speed is the chief cause of accidents and that only when going straight ahead does a driver tread heavily on the accelerator.

POLICE SEEK RULING ON FIRING A WEAPON

Philadelphia, Nov. 20—(AP)—The State Lodge, Fraternal Order of Police, wants the Pennsylvania superior court to rule on when a policeman can fire his gun.

The request was prompted on behalf of Police Chief William C. Duerr of Stowe township, Allegheny county, who was convicted on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the death of two men he believed were automobile thieves. The men were later proved innocent.

The Fraternal Order of Police asked the court to help policemen "avoid entrapment and consequent bondage for doing that which they honestly believed to be their duty." Duerr, free on $10,000 bond, is appealing his conviction.

Gifts for a Wonderful Christmas

He can be big only in his love

No use for Son-o-man to boast about the big things he can do—about how fast he can travel, how high he can build and how much he can destroy at one stroke. He is still a creature of little consequence—a small man, except in his LOVE.

The Earth upon which Son-o-man is born and lives briefly is itself a small thing compared to the place it's in and to the other things in the same place. It is very much bigger and goes very much faster than anything Son-o-man can devise. Right now it is going around the Sun at the rate of 1140 miles a minute or 68,400 miles an hour, carrying Son-o-man and everything else he does with it.

Son-o-man's three score and ten short years on this earth are but a very, very short time compared to the number of years this earthly ball has been going 'round and 'round the Sun.

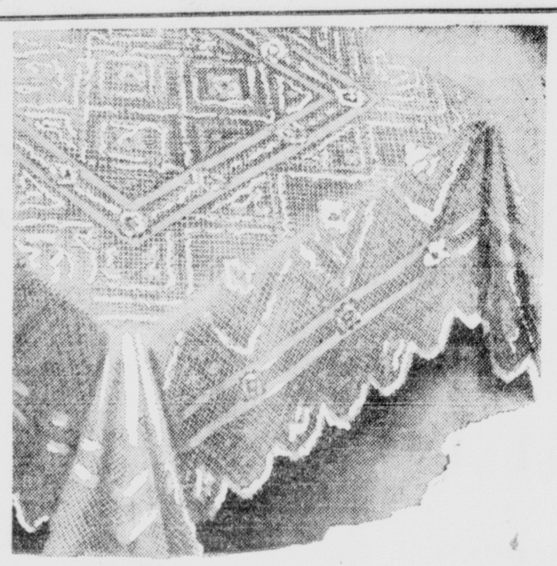

And Son-o-man knows in his heart that the best thing he can do is to live on the best of terms with his brothers and sisters—the other visitors on this earth who come and go like himself.

And Son-o-man also knows deep in his heart that the only thing he can be big in is his LOVE.

FISHBEIN DOUBLE SHOULD BEAT BID

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

This is the third of a series of articles based on the "Fishbein Convention," which will be used against pre-emptive bidding at the Atlantic City nationals.

In using this convention against weak two-bids or pre-emptive three-bids. Fishbein emphasizes that the bid of the next higher ranking suit for a takeout is made only by the bidder sitting directly over the pre-emptive bidder. Therefore, a double in this position means that the double thinks the pre-emptive bid can be beaten.

In today's hand, when North bids three diamonds, Fishbein says that it would be too dangerous for East to bid three hearts, with his partner having passed. He recommends, therefore, that East pass, but West, holding a singleton diamond, is justified in doubling. This is not a business double, because it is made by the player sitting under the pre-emptive bidder. It asks partner to show his best suit. East now bids four hearts which is made easily.

bein recommends a bid of three spades. This bid shows a good hand with a good spade suit, but needs a free raise from partner to go to game. In other words, East admits that his hand is not strong enough to make the informatory double bid of three hearts. West has a good hand and correctly bids four spades.

DETERMINES OVERCALL

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority

This is the fourth of a series of six articles based on the Fishbein convention, which was developed by Harry J. Fishbein and Corp. Alvin Roth.

North opens the bidding on today's hand with a pre-emptive bid of three diamonds. If East overcalled with the conventional bid of three hearts (the next higher ranking suit), he would be asking West to bid his best suit. But East has a good suit of his own and, in this case. Fishbein recommends a bid of three spades. This bid shows a good hand with a good spade suit, but needs a free raise from partner to go to game. In other words, East admits that his hand is not strong enough to make the informatory double bid of three hearts. West has a good hand and correctly bids four spades.

SUSPENSION NOTICE

The following memorandum has been received at the Local War Price and Rationing Board: "To suspend from price control meals, food items and beverages served on Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day, New Year's Eve, and New Year's Day if the establishments making use of this suspension file in advance with their local war price and Rationing Board two copies of the proposed menus which they plan to adopt."

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND

Eternal vigilance where the blind are concerned, keeping a watchful eye for the white cane with the red tip, when the afflicted persons carry for their own protection, was urged upon motor vehicle operators by Secretary of Revenue David W. Harris in a statement today as follows: "When a motorist observes in traffic a man or woman carrying a white cane with a red tip that driver should slow down or stop, if necessary, traffic signals or no traffic signals, to guarantee the safety of that individual. For that person is blind and the cane is a symbol of his affliction, and his only potection against death or inqury at the hands of some careless driver. The Lions Clubs of Pennsylvania have provided the blind with red-tipped canes to protect them in traffic. Every motor vehicle operator should fix that firmly in his mind and be guided by it while driving on our streets and highways."

Men's Class Host For Ladies' Night

The 6:30 o'clock dinner and program which featured the Ladies' Night of the First Methodist Men's Class held Monday night in Founders Hall, was attended by 45 couples.

Dinner music was provided by Helen Eckhart Olson, violinist, with Evelyn Wolstencroft as accompanist. Group singing was led by Monroe Marshall, with R. Pierson Eaton at the piano. Program arrangements were in the hands of Paul Yagge and included a welcome to the Ladies by President Frank Wood; two vocal numbers by Mr. Marshall, "Hills of Home" by Fox" and "Bless This House". Miss Wolstencroft was at the piano for his accompaniments.

Earle Flohr, recently home after 18 months of service with the American Red Cross in Italy, told the group of some of his experiences. Concluding, a very amusing radio skit, "The Grate American Broadcasting Company", was presented.

The program followed serving at tables attractively decorated in fall shades, with candles, ears of freshly husked corn and fall flowers used in attractive appointments.

Army Tackle Is Named Top Grid Lineman

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Army's great line finally landed a hunk of individual recognition this week when Dewitt "Tex" Coulter, mountainous Cadet tackle, was chosen by the Associated Press pole of the nation's sports writers as "Lineman of the Week."

The hulking 222-pounder, who has played a whale of a game in each of Army's crushing victories this season, gained the honor in a wild balloting spree in which three of his teammates also were nominated as outstanding in the Cadets' 61-0 triumph over Penn at Philadelphia.

Coach George Munger of the Quakers certified the verdict of the writers by singling out Coulter as the lineman who did the most to bash his boys into defete. His two-word description of Coulter was "just terrific."

Outside of the huzzahs for Coulter and company, the loudest drums were beaten for Ohio State's great guard, Warren Amling, a previous recipient of the "lineman" award.

As in the case of Army, there was disagreement among the writers as to what lineman played the biggest role in the week's two boggest upsets—Temple's win over Holy Cross and U. C. L. A.'s victary over St. Mary's.

Both center Mort Hochheiser, who bated down eight passes, and guard Mark Dolin were nominated as Temple's main hero up front. Coach Ray Morrison cast a close vote for Hochheiser, calling his play "inspirational." U. C. L. A.'s celebrated right guard, Al Sparlis, divided honors with Ed Tyson, Bruin center, for having contributed the most to the first St. Mary's defeat.

Aerial Crown Near Luckman In Pro Loop

Chicago, Nov. 21—(AP)—Although he is only tossing for fun quarterback Sid Luckman of the bedraggled Chicago Bears is headed for his first National Football League passing title.

Under the league's grading system, Luckman took the lead by tying Sammy Baugh of Washington in number of completions, 96, and topping him in yardage gained, 1,361 to 1,228, and in touchdown passes, 10 to 7. Baugh, however, has a better percentage of completions, .700 against .530, and has had only two passes intercepted, compared with seven errant Luckman tosses. Bob Waterfield of Cleveland is third.

The battle for individual ground-gaining laurels still is a cozy race between Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia and Washington's Frank Akins. Van Buren has amassed 567 yards in 88 attempts, while Akins has 539 in 104.

Don Hutson, Green Bay's "old man River" end, has all but clinched the scoring and pass receiving titles. His 89 points on 10 touchdowns and 29 conversions leave Van Buren far behind in second with 66. Hutson has caught 42 passes for 779 yards, compared with 32 receptions for 489 yards by runner-up Steve Bagarus of Washington.

Predicts a Close Army-Navy Game

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Laverne G. "Blondy" Saunders, has a word for the oddsmakers about the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia, Dec. 1.

Speaking before the Touchdown Club, the former West Point star and decorated hero who lost a leg in the Pacific War said:

"Points on the service game? Anyone who would give them ought to have his head examined. You can throw all previous scores out the window when Army and Navy meet.

"They've two fine American football teams, and they'll knock hell out of each other in a vigorous, friendly way, which is just the way we want it to be."

Army currently is favored to beat the Navy by up to 30 points.

Bummy Davis Shot By Tavern Bandit

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—A man identified by police as Al (Bummy) Davis, 26-year old former contender for the world's lightweight and welterweight boxing titles, was shot to death outside a Brooklyn tavern early today.

The assistant chief inspector's office said Davis was trying to stop four men who robbed the tavern. Davis, who real name was Albert Davidoff, was shot through the chest.

The boxer, who scored one of the ring's outstanding upsets in 1944 with a one-round knockout of then lightweight champion Bob Montgomery in a non-title bout, met many of the ring's top fighters during his career.

Meanwhile the police department's crack pistol marksmen, all members of the force's prize-winning gun teams, patrolled New York City's streets in a further step in the city-wide campaign against mounting violence and crime.

Newhouser Is Most Valued In American

By JACK HAND

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—Hal Newhouser, 24-year old pitching ace of the World Champion Detroit Tigers, today added a second straight American League most valuable player award to his harvest of laurels.

The slim Detroit native who southpawed Steve O'Neill's Bengals to a pair of series triumphs, including the seventh decisive tilt with the Chicago Cubs, had a runaway in the voting of the Baseball Writers Association.

The writers last week voted Phil Cavarretta, first baseman of the pennant-winning Chicago Cubs, as the most valuable player in the National League.

Last year Newhouser just squeezed past teammate Dizzy Trout by one point but this time the talented lefthander polled a 72-point margin over his nearest rival, second baseman Eddie Mayo, another important cog in the Tiger machine.

Detroit fans will agree with the verdict of the writers for it was Hurricane Hal who came in on relief to save the "pennant" game against St. Louis on the final day of the season, picking up his 25th win to nine defeats. Over a two-year stretch Newhouser has piled up 54 victories against 18 losses.

Only once before in the history of the most valuable voting in the junior circuit had a player won the crown two years running. Jimmy Foxx did it in 1932 and 1933. He also won it in 1938. Joe DiMaggio, Lou Gehrig, Hank Greenberg, Mickey Cochrane and Walter Johnson, each was honored twice but not in successive seasons.

Johnson's dates back to the old Chalmers award days

Newhouser matched his 1944 point total to 236, receiving nine first place votes from the 24 writers, three representing each city in the league. Mayo's 164 points just shaded George Stirnweiss of New York who drew 161 for copping the batting title at .309, and showing the way with 33 stolen bases.

Dave Ferriss, Boston's Freshman phenom who stepped out of the army air corps to win 21 games in his first shot at the big time, was a strong fourth with 148 points, followed by George Myatt, a key man in Washington's pennant drive that just did fall short. Myatt had 98 votes to 94 for Vern Stephens of St. Louis.

Roger Wolff, knuckle balling ace of Washington's strong pitching staff took seventh place with 78 points to 70 for Manager Lou Boudreau of Cleveland who missed the last month or so of the campaign due to injuries. George Case of the Senators followed in ninth position with 60 and Paul Richards, the Detroit catcher who was given much of the credit for the Tigers' success, rounded out the first 10 with 35 points.

First place votes were distributed nine to Newhouser, seven to Mayo, four to Stirnweiss, two to Ferriss and one each to Myatt and Joe Kuhel of the Senators who finished in 12th position.

Newhouser will receive the second annual Kenesaw Mountain Landis memorial plaque as baseball's official designation.

Sportsmen In Co. Oppose Bounty Halt

Warren county sportsmen today launched an all-out attack to halt a possible suspension of the four-dollar bounty on predatory animals in the state by the Pennsylvania State Game Commission.

Jay Pees, district forester and spokesman for the group, said this morning that the Warren Field and Stream Club's predatory control committee, which met last night to discuss the topic, decided unanimously against the cessation of a bounty on the animals, particularly foxes.

According to information received here, sportsmen in thee eastern part of the state, who are little bothered by the predators, were forwarding a movement to favor passage by the commission to stop the bounty rate. However, Pees stated that the poor small game hunting conditions in and about the county this season can be blamed upon the predators.

All fox trappers are asked to meet Sunday afternoon, November 25, at 2:30 in front of the Municipal building with their bags taken so far this season. Pictures will be taken of the pelts and trappers, and these will be used in the campaign against the passage of a bill halting the bounty rate.

Chapter 7

[Sunday 8:10 a.m. to 9:58 a.m.]

"WAKE up! Wake up!"

The words went on and on, echoing through Julia's head. She opened her eyes, then closed them again. Her head was a whirl of buzzing pain.

"Julia! Wake up! The police are here again. The guard was knocked out last night. You have to wake up."

It was Virginia's voice and her usual cool tones were anxious.

Slowly, tortuously, memory brought the events of the night before into Julia's aching head. She was in her own bed again and that was queer. She had gone down in the foyer and that was the last thing she knew.

"My head hurts."

"At least you can talk and that's some relief." Virginia said. "I'll get you some aspirin."

She went into the bathroom and Julia saw she had put on a sport skirt and sweater of hers and that they were both too small. Where had Virginia been last night when she had tried to find her?

She didn't have a chance to ask her. Gertrude, the maid who did the cleaning and lived out, knocked briefly and entered.

"There's police here that wants to see madam right away," she announced, gasping a little.

Julia sat up, and her throbbing head seemed too heavy to hold erect. When Virginia came with the aspirin and a glass of water, she took two tablets and drank the water, then sank back down.

"I'm sorry. My head hurts so I can't get up."

She thought the two women looked at her curiously. They both went out of the room but Virginia was back soon.

"Who is your doctor, Julia? If you don't have a doctor the police will say you're faking. If you'll recall you didn't look dazed with grief last night."

"Doctor Wandell." She spoke the name without thinking and memory of the man sitting beside Jerry with quiet solicitude gave her a peace that calmed the jagged questions piercing her sore head. She closed her eyes.

Seconds went by — this time like punctured balloons, flat and small. She dozed and dreamed. She awakened and lay unthinking. At last she was aroused by the entrance of Dr. Wandell. He sat beside her and took her pulse.

"Something happened." It was a statement.

"Yes. Some one struck me on the head last night when I went into the foyer. But I woke up in bed. Isn't that odd? Her voice had only a mild curiosity. The terror of the early morning seemed vague.

He bent over her, his long fingers exploring her head. She winced when he touched the right side close to the back. He sat in the chair again and held her hand.

"I think you'll be all right, my dear, and I'm not sure it is a good thing to tell the police. Virginia has told them that both of you slept in here and that she could have known if you had left the room. No one was here last night but you two and Moore and the detective who was left to watch the place has a bad concussion this morning. I wasn't told whether the police know why the guard was knocked out or not but Moore thinks the drawing room was searched. If you say you were in the foyer then neither you nor Virginia has an alibi. Evidently Virginia didn't hear you leave."

"She wasn't here."

His hand closed more tightly over hers.

"It's hard to know. I've seen the law do stupid things yet I've known of some brilliant detection. I think if we could play for time it would help."

"I'll tell them I slept hard all night," Julia told him with a weak smile.

"I believe that's best. Then they won't waste time trying to involve you. As it is you're the logical person to suspect and they neglect every other possibility."

"But surely I'd have no reason for knocking out the detective," she protested.

His eyes grew soft.

"Oh, you poor innocent child. Don't you know they suspect you of murdering Robey?"

INCREDULITY and fright struggled for a hold within her. It was preposterous that any one should think that she would kill Robey. At the same time she knew the doctor was right.

"But I wasn't near him when it happened."

His thin lips pressed grimly together.

"You don't think I was?"

"No. I want to help you, to and I have to protect some one else. You will be in less danger if you say nothing—tell nothing that is at all possible to keep."

She started to sit up when a sharp knock sounded on the door. Doctor Wandell opened the door. It was Inspector Venable looking very young and very stern. His dark grey suit with a double breasted coat that hung negligently from bulky shoulders contrasted sharply with the doctor's sartorial perfection.

"It is imperative that I see Miss Baker at once."

"For a few minutes. She's in highly nervous state."

"It won't take me long," the Inspector said grimly. "Now if you will leave."

"Leave? Oh, no. I have to watch her condition."

"Doctor Wandell, for a person who has been practicing only two years, you overdo the special role," said Venable.

"All right. You win this time, Inspector. But use your head. It can help you."

"You've helped too much already."

The doctor smiled slightly, gave Julia a meaning glance and left. This time, Julia thought, the Inspector had made an enemy.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Nov. 16—The Home Economics Department entertained the pupils of the Sugar Grove Joint Vocational School in a one act play, Her Zero Hour, on Wednesday. The program was opened by all singing the Star Spangled Banner accompanied by Dorothy Miller. Those taking part were Beverly Beck as Louise Lake, (Annabell's loyal friend and room mate). Dorothy Miller as Helen Marshall, (a friend who was wavering.) Linnea Henning, as Marian Elliot (inclined to be a snob,) Louise Bruce, as Annabell Carlton, (standing in her zero hour.)

The play was greatly enjoyed and was directed by Miss Ilajean Feldmiller and Everett Landin. Audrey Hoy was bookmaker.

The senior class are sponsoring a stationary sale and the junior class are accepting subscriptions for thirty eight different magazines. The class is divided into two teams with Edna Mae Stearns and Dorothy Miller as capains. Linnea Henning is general manager.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, was entertained by Mrs. R. A. Stewart and Mrs. Elmer Frodelius, at the former's home Thursday afternoon. Twelve women were present. The president, Mrs. J. A. McIntosh presided. Miss Mary Hamilton conducted the devotions, using a Thanksgiving theme. Miss Josephine Ricker gave the first chapter of the study book, The Cross Over Africa and Mrs. Scott Stuart, presented the the program in which several of those present took part.

The first of the program consisted of Thanksgiving poems and thoughts which was followed by a study of the current "Women and Missions."

During the business meeting the society voted to make a gift of twenty five dollars to the Caravan chest. The hostess assisted by Mrs. Clifford Hansen of Erie, served a delicious buffet supper.

The Stilson Hill Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Gerald Rhodes, Wednesday, the work for the day was quilting and the hostess assisted by Mrs. Everett Bowers and Mrs. Ellsworth Wilson served a delicious buffet dinner to eleven members and six visitors. The president Mrs. A. J. Phillips presided at a short business meeting. The Aid will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Emma Nuttall and Mrs. Don Nuttall.

Reading Is Still Without Papers

Reading, Nov. 21—(AP)—Merchants in this eastern Pennsylvania city were a little better situated for the Christmas rush today after a 20-day strike of truckers ended.

Now, one merchant observed, they can get merchandise—but they still can't advertise because of a strike of typographers at the Reading Eagle Company.

The 600 truckers went back to work after 38 firms agreed yesterday to grant the men, members of Local 429, Teamsters Union (AFL), wage increases of $3 to $4.80 weekly.

But there was no settlement in sight of the strike which had kept Reading newspapers since Sept. 8. The 73 workers, members of Local 86, International Typographers Union (AFL), asserted the company balked at signing a new contract.

Publishers of the Reading Morning Times, Afternoon Eagle and Sunday Eagle—all operated by the Eagle Company—filed breach of contract charges against the union and the union filed counter-charges.

Richardson's Removal Is Given Airing

against the blockade, he said today he had consulted with war plans division officers here who drew up the message for Hart.

The naval officers assumed, the message showed, that "the United States is prepared to accept war" if the blockade brought counteraction by Jaapn.

Among the other assumptions was that the United States would support British forces in Australia and Singapore and Dutch forces in the East Indies.

In his report of the Oct. 8, 1940 White House conversation Richardson testified earlier he asked Mr. Roosevelt if this country was going to enter the war. He paraphrased the president's reply as follows:

"He replied that if the Japanese attacked Thailand, or the Dutch East Indies, we would not enter the war; that if they even attacked the Philippines he doubted whether we would enter the war, but that they could not always avoid making mistakes and that as the war continued and the area of operations expanded sooner or later they would make a mistake and we would enter the war."

Murphy said he feared this statement on the Philippines might have "repercussions." Accordingly, he said he asked Leahy about it.

He quoted the admiral as replying that he, Leahy, had a sharp recollection of Richardson's having argued for return of the fleet from Hawaii to the Pacific coast but that he had no recollection of the president's having expressed doubt that an attack on the Philippines might provoke this country to war.

office, she set up shop in the kitchen of one of the Force families.

Harrisburg, Nov. 21—(AP)—A hearing will be held in Pittsburgh soon on the appeal of the Shawmut Mining Company fro mthe decision of an unemployment compensation referee that some 400 miners at Force, are engaged in a bonafide labor dispute.

Melvin I. Jacobs, secretary of the board of review of the unemployment compensation fund said that Chairman Harry A. Englehart would hold the hearing. The date has yet to be fixed.

DELAYING ACTION PLANNED

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—Senator McKellar (D.-Tenn.)—served notice today he will carry to a conference committee his figt for as long a delay as possible in returning the U. S. Employment Service to the states. The Tennessean told a reporter he will try to win house conferees over to a 120-day stay, as voted by the senate yesterday when it approved $51,244,680,213 in cutbacks of wartime appropriations.

Alaska's area is nearly one-fifth that of continental United States.

Nationalists Are Near Hingcheng

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Nov. 21—(AP)—Nationalist troops who broke into Manchuria through the Great Wall were reported by the army newspaper Ho Ping Pao today to be approaching Hingcheng on the Peiping-Mukden railroad some 60 miles northeast of Shanhaikwan.

The Nationalists encountered little or no resistance, the report indicated, as their present position is 25 miles northeast of yesterday's.

The newspaper predicted the Communist-held port of Hulutao, 17 miles northeast of Hingcheng, would be captured in a few days. It said the area between the eastern end of the Great Wall and Funing, about 25 miles westward, had been cleared by the government forces.

Communist sources in Chungking, meanwhile, drew attention to what they described as a "serious situation" in central China, where more than 100,000 government troops were purportedly massing. The insurgent spokesman asserted large scale fighting is expected soon in central Honan and northern Hupeh provinces, where 14 government divisions are strung along a 110-mile front, facing the Communist Eighth Route Army and the new Fourth Army, which recently joined forces.

Erie Drops From Pony Loop Action

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 21—(AP)—The Board of Directors of the Class D PONY baseball league has reinstated the Hamilton, Ont., club and dropped the Erie, Pa., team from the circuit.

The Erie nine had operated the Hamilton franchise for two years. The Sailors expect to return to the Class C Middle Atlantic League which suspended operations during the war.

A 126-game schedule, the same number of contests as last year, was adopted by the directors at their annual meeting yesterday. The season opens the first Wednesday in May and ends Labor Day.

Robert C. Stedler was re-elected president and secretary-treasurer of the eight-team league. Dr. Hugh J. Ryan, mayor of Bradford, Pa., was elected vice president to succeed William J. Schumacher, owner of the Lockport club.

NOTED AUTHOR DIES

Richmond, Va., Nov. 21—(AP)—Ellen Glasgow, nationally known author, died today in the Richmond home where she had lived most of her life. She was 71. Winner of the Pulitzer prize in 1942 for her latest book, "In This Our Life," Miss Glasgow first won fame in the early 1900's with her book, "The Voice of the Peaple."

Every lightning flash or electric spark is an atom-splitter, knocking electrons out of the atoms of air through which it passes.

Seek To Find G. I. Graves In Japan

Tokyo, Nov. 21—(AP)—Allied headquarters today directed the Japanese government to compile information on the location of graves of Allied personnel in Japan, reporting full details before Dec. 15. The directive coincided with a renewed search for personnel still listed as missing in Japan—including more than 1,500 airmen.

Less than 30 graves have been discovered thus far, and Japanese report that in many cases the information is known only to local police.

The government is ordered to report the name, rank and serial number of the deceased, the date, place and cause of death, exact present location of the remains, and names and addresses of persons who know these locations.

Another headquarters order today forbade Japanese to make any additions to radio circuits or to the number of broadcasting stations, or any other changes in radio communications without prior Allied permission.

Hitler's Henchmen Enter Not Guilty Pleas and Plan To Make Fight for Lives

Lawrence halted him. Then, with an angry grimace, Goering intoned:

"I declare myself in the sense of the indictment not guilty."

He waddled back to his seat.

Hess' barked "no" was officially recorded as "not guilty." The court had not yet ruled in Hess' sanity, but since he was permitted to plead it was assumed he wouuld be tried with the rest.

Reading from German records, Justice Jackson said that German General Falensttein wrote on Oct. 29, 1940, that "the fueher is at present occupied with the question of occupation of Atlantic islandsd with a view to prosecution of the war against America at a later date."

In March, 1941, Jackson said, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the German high command, issued a secret directive that "the fuehrer has ordered instigattion of Japan's active participation in the war."

Rudolf Hess, once Hitler's deputy and now fifighting to escape trial on the plea of insanity, caused a stir when he shouted "no."

Justice Lawrence said his reply would be entered as a plea of not guilty.

The court called Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, still shaky from his near-collapse yesterday.

"Not guilty," he announced.

Field Marshal William Keitel: "Not guiulty."

Nazi Philosopher Alfred Rosenberg: "I declare myself in the sense of the indictment not guilty."

When the roll of the accused Nazi leaders had been called and and all the defendants had pleaded innocence, Lord Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding justice, ruled that Ernest Kaltenbrunner, Nazi security chief, who was unable to appear because of a cranial hemorrhage, would be tried in absentia.

The court recessed for 15 minutes when the tribunal considered the contention of Adfred Thoma, counsel for Rosenberg, the official philosopher of the Nazi party, that he had been barred from consulting his client last night and consequently could not enter a plea.

Lord Justice Lawrence tightened the rules for trial procedure when he ruled inanswer to another protest that counsel cannot talk to defendants in court except by written note.

Justice Jackson, in a 20,000 word statement to the court, asserted:

"They have subjected their European neighbors to every outrage and torture, every spoliation and deprication that insolence, cruelty and greed could inflict.

"They have brought the German people to the lowest pitch of wretchedness, from which they can entertain no hope for early deliverance. They have incited domestic violence in every continent."

He said the real complaining party in the trial was civilization, which "is still a struggling and imperfect thing."

The motion challenging the validity of the proceedings asked that the tribunal "secure from internationally recognized experts on international law an opinion about the legal basis for this trial."

Intervention In Conference Is Proposed

ference affairs, but both unwilling to be quoted by name.

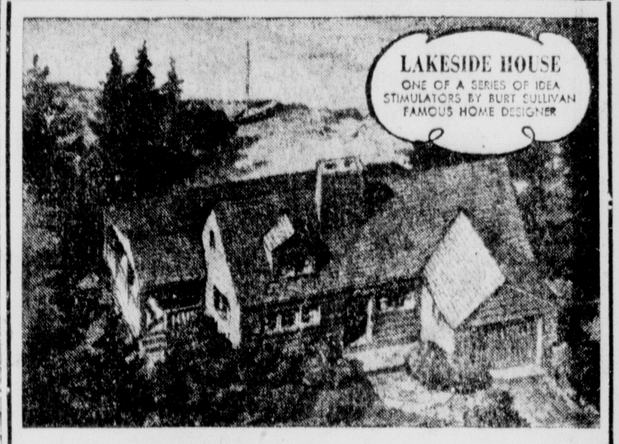

One said the suggestion already had been taken up with Mr. Truman, but neither wanted to guess whether the president might decide to step in.

One of the officials said it had been suggested that Mr. Truman ask the delegates to "come up at least with an agreement on arbitration and fact-finding."

The president's advisers were were said to be divided on the idea. Those favoring his intervention were perhaps out-numbered, it was said, by those who felt the government should let the industry and labor leaders run the conference themselves.

Mr. Truman's only comment on the parley's progress—given at his news conference—was that he hoped the meeting would yet produce a concrete formula for the settlement of labor disputes.

the UAW-CIO strategy committee and announced by President R. J. Thomas in Detroit, came after two months of unsuccessful negotiations on the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage rate increase. The union had rejected three company counter-proposals while General Motors failed to reply at the designated time yesterday on the union's proposal for arbitration of the bitter wage dispute.

The transit strike in Washington by some 4,000 members of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes came after members rejected a proposal by federal conciliators that demands for increased wages be arbitrated. The union, which claims all except 400 of the company's 4,460 workers as members, had asked wage hikes of 30 cents an hour, to $1.25.

In Chicago, there was no immediate indication of a settlement of a strike of 8,700 telephone operators which union officials said kept idle an estimated 16,000 telephone workers in Illinois.

The operators quit work Monday in a wage dispute and service has been crippled in Chicago and 115 Illinois communities and in two Indiana counties. A second conciliation conference to end the walkout broke up in a deadlock.

Corry Man Faints After Conviction

being led back to Erie county jail.

Judge J. Orin Waite said Bromley's life sentence would run concurrently with a 12½ to 25-year term for rape and burglary of which he had served 2½ years at Western Penitentiary.

Defense counsel said it would appeal from the verdict because the court failed (1) to continue the case until the defense could call witnesses serving in the army, and (2) to allow cross examination of Bromley's brother-in-law, Frank Burdick of Corry, as to his reason for testifying. Burdick had testified Bromley confessed the slaying.

Mrs. Clinton Phanco of North East, mother of the slain sailor, collapsed during the afternoon session while Judge Waite was instructing the jury about the discovery of Wilkinson's body. She had to be escorted from the room and did not return.

Asked about the difference in views on the army-navy merger—with Eisenhower favoring it and Nimitz now opposing—Mr. Truman said he would state his own attitude in a message to congress and after that all will be in the same boat. H edid not amplify.

Pending senate action on Eisenhower's nomination, the president named the 55 year old Kansan as acting chief of staff, effective immediately.

SENSATION INJECTED INTO MURDER CASE

Santta Fe, N. M., Nov. 21—(AP) A state prison trusty's testimony that he had worked frequently in the apartment house where Mrs. Leon G. Kennedy, Jr., Monday was brutally slain injected a mild sensation today into Santa Fe's murder mystery.

Mrs. Kennedy, 22, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Canning, of Denver. Her husband is chief bookkeeper in a Santa Fe bank and son of the first vice president of the First National Bank of Denver.

The police acknowledged they were without clues except for a few short hairs clutched in Mrs. Kenney's hand and a vague description of a man about 36 who was seen near the apartment a few hours before the body was found.
